Halloween in the IE

Welcome to our guide to all things scary (and a few things that aren't) this Halloween season. There's lots going on, from haunted houses to pumpkin patches ... see for yourself from page 6 through 9.

Cal Poly Pomona 18th Annual Pumpkin Festival

FESTIVAL • PUMPKIN PATCH POMONA

Cal Poly Pomona's annual Pumpkin Festival has become a tradition for many families in the surrounding communities. Mark your calendar for Oct. 16-17 when thousands of visitors will descend upon the campus to pick pumpkins right out of the patch.

Other activities include an Insect Fair featuring nearly 500,000 live and preserved insects, a farmer's market, a corn maze, a petting zoo, horse rides, entertainment, a Pancake Breakfast on Saturday morning, and a variety of food and game booths sponsored by student clubs. Visitors may also purchase Cal Poly Pomona grown produce and ornamental plants plus a variety of gift items from the Cal Poly Pomona Farm Store.

Admission to the Festival is free though individual activities will have a small fee. Proceeds from the Pumpkin Festival support student activities and the College's farm laboratory.

For more information, call (909) 869-2215 or go online to www.csupomona.edu/farmstore.

Castle Park

THEME PARK • HAUNTED HOUSE RIVERSIDE

Castle Park in Riverside becomes Castle Dark in October, making it the perfect place to bring the kids for Halloween. They can trick or treat, ride the rides and enjoy all the fun and excitement of the Fall season, without a single scare during the day.

However, when the sun goes down, the terror heats up with new attractions, "Insanity Maze" and "Psychedelic Wonderland," the Castle's famous "terror on the tracks," as well as monsters in the streets and scary themed rides.

Halloween fun takes place weekends, Oct. 8 through Oct. 31. Go to www.

Eat dinner like the

Looking to put some danger into your dining? A unique culinary and theatrical experience awaits in Buena Park with a delightfully piraty twist.

Pirate's Dinner Adventure is a swaggering, humorous, musical adventure spectacular, acclaimed as "the world's most unique interactive dinner show." This Broadway-style show is presented on an enormous, fully-rigged pirate's galleon. The replicated 18th-century Spanish galleon measures 46 feet long, 18 feet wide, with 40-foot masts, and is anchored in a 250,000-gallon indoor lagoon with night sky lighting. Surrounding the lagoon is a six-sided showroom of additional "ships." This is where spectators watch the action unfold. The elaborate set provides the backdrop for non-stop action, comedy, and a little bit of romance.

To set the scene, you, along with the beautiful Princess Anita and her court, are hostages to a band of pirates led by the dastardly Sebastian the Black. Nasty Sebastian will stop at nothing to plunder, pillage, and rob.

Pirates

While the show is taking place patrons are served a sumptuous four course meal fit for a pirate king. The meal is served with a garden salad or vegetable soup and a choice of BBQ pork loin or roasted half chicken, all served with steamed broccoli floret and caribbean rice or mashed potatoes. For dessert enjoy an apple cobbler with vanilla ice cream with chocolate and strawberry sauce. Vegetarian meals are served upon request.

After the feast and climatic battle, stick around to meet and mingle with the stars of the show. You will have a chance to get your favorite pirate's autograph, or even a picture or two.

Pirate's Dinner Adventure has gift cards available which make great holiday presents. Call (866) 439-2469 for more details. Pirate's Dinner Adventure is located at 7600 Beach Blvd. in Buena Park, two blocks North of Knott's Berry Farm. IER

Pueblo a treasure in the desert

The Inland Empire is rich in traditions and history. A treasure that many locals aren't even aware of, though is Cabot's Pueblo Museum, located in Desert Hot Springs. The hand-made Pueblo is world famous and houses a museum collection including Native American pottery and baskets, artifacts and other treasures.

The story begins in 1883 with Cabot Yerxa's birth in the Dakota Territories. Tour visitors take a look through his home at artifacts he collected as he journeyed to Mexico, Alaska, Cuba, and Paris. He returned from his travels to begin his "Castle in the Desert" and begin the founding of Desert Hot Springs.

The museum story also includes Yerxa's discovery of the international award-winning mineral springs and drinking water, perhaps the greatest natural resource to the residents of Desert Hot Springs. During his homesteading process from 1913-1918 he hand dug two wells: one hot mineral water, the other cold spring water.

The museum hosts thousands of visitors who delight in the history and connection to the past, making it one of the most popular attractions in Desert Hot Springs.

Bret Michaels gives Oct. concert at Fox Performing Arts Center

Bret Michaels is, if nothing else, a true survivor. He has survived a life long battle as an insulin dependent diabetic, a well publicized near fatal car crash and the countless musical trends and fads of the last two decades.

“As soon as I ever start to just go through the motions I’ll quit,” confessed the 46-year-old singer, songwriter, producer, director and actor in a recent interview. But there’s little chance he’ll even slow down let alone quit anytime soon. In fact, after more than 20 years in the business this award winning, multi platinum superstar’s career continues to move at warp speed.

Children will be pleased by 'Purse'

The MainStreet Theatre Company begins its 5th season of professional theatre for young audiences with Lilly's Purple Plastic Purse, a stage adaptation of the popular books by Kevin Henkes. The production opens October 2 and runs through October 17 at Rancho Cucamonga's Lewis Family Playhouse located at 12505 Cultural Center Drive.

Lilly's Purple Plastic Purse brings Kevin Henkes' exuberant mouse Lilly to the stage. Lilly loves everything, including her red boots, her best friends, and especially her new purse which plays music whenever it is opened.

The play, for ages 5 and up follows the storylines of three of Henkes' much loved books, Chester's Way, Julius, Baby of the World, and Lilly's Purple Plastic Purse. The MainStreet Theatre Company production will bring Lilly's world to life in a unique and colorful production, including several larger than life dream sequences and a musical score written specifically for this production.

"Children can relate to the ups and downs of Lilly's life. Even though Lilly and her friends are mice, they have the same problems and emotions as human children. They will relate to her jealousy of her new baby brother, to her arsenal of disguises that make her feel brave, and to the joy of sharing her secret language with her best friends. The adaptation is great because it really captures childhood in a funny and yet sincere way. Our team is having a blast creating this wonderful world," MainStreet Theatre Company producer Mireya "Murry" Hepner said.

The six-person cast will play multiple roles in this whimsical, funny, and sweet production. Cast members include MainStreet Theatre Company mainstays Emily Eiden

(last seen as the "nice" stepsister in Cinderella) as Lilly and Reggie De Leon (Cinderella, A Year With Frog & Toad) as Chester. Max Grodenchik, a veteran of stage and screen, will portray both Lilly's father and teacher Mr. Slinger. MainStreet Theatre Company newcomers Robin Becker, Amanda Pajer, and Max Lawrence round out the cast.

Lilly's Purple Plastic Purse, appropriate for ages five years and up, runs Oct. 2-17 on Saturday at 1pm and 4pm, and Sunday at 1pm (no performance on Oct. 3). The matinee on Oct. 10 will be interpreted in American Sign Language. The Playhouse also runs special weekday matinees for school children. Tickets are $17 for general admission, $15 for seniors, and $14 for youth up to age 12. Subscriptions are available for all three shows in MainStreet's season at a 20% discount.

For additional information or to purchase tickets, visit www.lewisfamilyplayhouse.com or call the Lewis Family Playhouse Box Office at (909) 477-2752 or (877) 858-8422.

Lilly is mighty pleased with her purse, and kids will love this adaptation of the works of Kevin Henkes.

Celebrating Women in the arts

An historic 3-day festival showcases the talents of women in a variety of arts

The Los Angeles Women's Theatre Project, a nonprofit organization founded in 2007 by Playwright Dee Jae Cox and Songwriter Michele Weiss, will present a three-day festival celebrating "Women In The Arts," held November 5-7 at the Casablanca Studios in Desert Hot Springs.

Women In The Arts is designed to showcase the works of women artists in the fields of theatre, film, music, literature and visual arts. Based on national statistics only 20% of the working professionals in the performing arts are female.

The festival will feature Grammy award-winning, singer/songwriter Janis Ian, whose hit songs "At Seventeen" and "Society's Child" made her a music icon. Ian will perform in concert at the event on Saturday Nov. 6 and teach a special "Master Class in Artistry" workshop on Sunday Nov. 7.

In addition to Ian, the work of more than 50 artists, who were selected from international, national and local submissions, will have their plays, films, literature, music and visual arts presented at the event. An exciting variety of stage plays and films will be presented at the festival, giving entertainment options that will appeal to audiences in all areas of interest.

The Wilderness at the End of the Road

Where the pavement ends and nature begins is artist Tony Caltabiano's domain. Caltabiano's "Wilderness" showcase at the Fontana Art Depot Gallery depicts the mystery of California's dwindling natural landscape using a combination of photography and painting "to capture the unique nuances of the area, portraying them in a haunting and spiritual light," Caltabiano said.

"Southern California is where I grew up, and I am drawn to the distinct species and topology of the area. I like the idea that I can walk in an area that hasn't changed in thousands of years."

Caltabiano still lives in California and currently teaches digital photographic processes while finishing his Masters of Fine Arts at Azusa Pacific University. Caltabiano's work has been shown in many locations around southern California, as well as in Miami and New York.

"Wilderness" will open the week of October 4 at the Fontana Art Depot Gallery. Caltabiano will personally showcase the exhibit at the Fontana Arts Depot Gallery's Family Art Night on Friday, Nov. 5.

Since he was young, Caltabiano has been interested in the California Wilderness. "Growing up in suburban southern California, I longed for a natural landscape I didn't know," he said. "I began to explore some of the less known wilderness areas on the fringes of urban sprawl."

The art itself is otherworldly and haunting, using stark color to give the landscape an almost surreal quality. Much of this is due to the way Caltabiano photographs "with medium and large format film cameras, several of which are over half a century old," he said. The lenses and technique are important, "lenses begin to gain a unique 'feel' and 'look' to them as they wear, which yields a humility - and humanity - to the image that cannot be found in newer, modern optics," he said.

Adding to the photograph, Caltabiano will often paint into the image, "further pushing the distinction between realities," he said.

The "Wilderness" exhibit is at the Art Depot Gallery from Oct. 4 to Nov. 26. For more information on Caltabiano's art, visit his website at www.higherplacestudio.com. IER

Garden railroad show brings the excitement of miniature locomotives to the Fairplex

The Southwest Garden Railroad Show will again spread the fun and excitement of garden railroading at The Fairplex in Pomona. With their garden railroad and the train museum, it is without a doubt the best place to hold such an event.

Trains fascinate those of all ages. Many of us have a train story to share, such as the memory of riding a train, playing with a train or of a relative that worked for the railroad. Trains touch the heart of almost everyone.

The Southwest Garden Railroad Show will be held Nov. 6-7 from 9am to 4pm.

The Fairplex Garden Railroad is considered the oldest and possibly the largest miniature railroad of its kind in the United States and possibly the world. The railroad began as a special static exhibit for the third Los Angeles Fair in 1924. It soon became a small, hand built, operating miniature train, in true 1/2 inch scale. The small railroad continued to grow and in 1935 moved out of the Fair's tent to its present outdoor location. In May of 1997, with the help of members of a local garden railroad club, the original 1/2 inch scale was replaced with what is referred to as G gauge in the hobby of model railroading, and renovation of the miniature railroad began.

The Fairplex is also home of a railroad museum with a great collection of equipment and will be open during the show. The Railway and Locomotive Historical Society is a national organization founded in 1921. The society's work is devoted to the collecting and preservation of all types of railroad memorabilia and the sharing of the members' railroad interests.

G-gauge train is one of the larger sizes of model trains. Typically, they are placed in a garden outdoors. Numerous arboretums across the country now boast a garden railroad. Last year alone, Garden Railroad Magazine reported that 35 new public garden railroads were built around the country. Epcot at Disney World has had one for a number of years.

The best displays in the country, built by local clubs and hobbyists, will be available for viewing. They show the skills of master craftsmen in all aspects of scenery, custom buildings, and model railroading.

For kids 16 and under admission is free. Adults are $10 or $18 for a two day pass. The Fairplex is located at 1101 W. McKinley Ave. in Pomona. IER become a teacher there, and then leaves to become the governess of Rochester's ward at Thornfield Manor, where mystery and intrigue abound. This intense love story of Jane and Rochester is complemented with the humorous antics of Rochester's household help. The music is classic in the style of "Les Miserables" or "Jekyll and Hyde" with soaring ballads and large ensemble numbers, including "Maybe Love," "Common Ground," "Prosperity's Got A Price," "Two Gentle Eyes," and "The Moors Will be Calling."

Still required reading in many schools, this musical treatment intends to re-popularize the story, adding songs that will become popular favorites. The music is by Jerry Williams, international symphony conductor and Music Director for Donny/Marie Osmond productions, with book by Patricia York, adapted for stage by Jan Duncan. This new treatment is not to be confused with the John Caird version, produced earlier at the La Jolla Playhouse.

Pledge to Make a Difference

The best way to get anything done is by working together. Riverside Public Utilities is looking for your help to reduce the energy demands in the City of Riverside.

The state of California requires that utility companies reduce their overall energy consumption by 10% over 10 years. To do that, Riverside Utilities is looking toward customers to take steps to reduce their energy usage around the house and at work.

One of the easiest ways to do your part and reduce energy consumption is to "Do The Twist," and switch out your standard incandescent light bulbs with energy-efficient Compact Fluorescent Light bulbs (CFLs) in each light socket inside and outside your home.

Not only do CFLs offer great lighting quality, they are easy to install and offer big energy savings. In fact, the CFLs you twist in will use about 75% less electricity than your standard incandescent light bulbs. Plus CFLs can last up to 10 times longer. That can save you about $60 in electricity costs over each CFL's lifetime.

After you "Do The Twist," make sure to log on to GreenRiverside.com and click the link to Energy Star's "Change a Light, Change the World" program and take the pledge to support saving energy and reducing greenhouse gas emissions.

CFL Facts: If every American home replaced just one light bulb with an Energy Star-rated CFL, the amount of energy saved could power 3 million homes for one year, and prevent greenhouse gases equivalent to the emission of more than 800,000 cars. IER

Paralympic Bronze Medalist Anthony Zahn to ride at Riverside Citrus Classic Bike Ride

Local Olympian and bike shop owner Anthony Zahn will serve as the celebrity for the Riverside Citrus Classic (www.riversidecitrusclassic.org) bike ride on October 17 at the Riverside Plaza. Zahn will ride with some of his team members in the 54 mile route and afterwards will sign photos and greet the riders at a vendor fair and party following the ride at 11am on Sunnyside and DeAnza in Riverside.

Paralympic Bronze medalist Anthony Zahn will take part in the Riverside Citrus Classic Bike Ride, Oct. 17.

Zahn was diagnosed with CMT in high school, which is a condition characterized by a slow progressive degeneration of the muscles in the periphery of the body. At the time, he was playing several sports and decided to concentrate just on cycling. The physical challenges he faces every day and the surgery he has endured have strengthened his character and allowed him to focus on achieving his goals.

He currently resides in Riverside, where he owns and manages his own bike shop. Anthony's Cyclery sells bikes, clothing and accessories, offers repairs and sponsors various race programs and clubs.

After a strong performance at the 2007 World Championships in Bordeaux, France, Zahn followed it up with a bronze medal at the 2008 Paralympic Games in Beijing, China, placing third in the Individual Time Trial LC 4. Anthony is currently training for the 2010 World Championships and plans to compete in the next Olympic Games in 2012.

Though he spends most of his time training, Zahn enjoys relaxing and supporting his wife Deane while she pursues her Ph.D. in Entomology and in her Federation Equestrian International Competitions (FEI). They have been married for four years.

busting Top 40 singles including "Talk Dirty to Me," "Something to Believe In," "Nothing But a Good Time" and the timeless #1 smash "Every Rose Has its Thorn," which he is currently in the studio re-recording with Miley Cyrus and producer John Shanks for her upcoming album. In the new millennium Poison's music has been featured in such big screen flicks as "Mr. and Mrs. Smith," "Grandma's Boy" and "Deuce Bigelow-European Gigolo." They continue to be one of the industry's top grossing concert attractions and their "20 Years of Rock" CD was a bona fide Top 20 smash.

Michaels has also produced and written material for other artists including Stevie Nicks. He wrote and produced the song "Love's a Hard Game to Play" which appeared on Nicks' platinum album "Timespace: The Best Of Stevie Nicks." More recently Michaels could be heard providing background vocals along with Phil Vassar on the Kenny Chesney/Uncle Kracker duet single "Last Night Again."

Always creating, Michaels formed a film production company with actor Charlie Sheen. The partnership ultimately led to Michaels writing, directing and starring in several films including "A Letter From Death Row" which he executive co-produced with Sheen.

As an actor, Michaels has made regular appearances on such hit television shows as "Yes Dear," "Martial Law," "The Chris Isaak Show" and "Don't Forget the Lyrics." He has also co-hosted "Access Hollywood" and been a judge on the wildly popular "Nashville Star" program.

Setting his musical sights beyond Poison, Michaels released his debut solo album "Songs of Life" in 2003 followed by the rootsy, Americana flavored sophomore record "Freedom of Sound" in 2005 and "Rock My World" featuring the smash hit "Go That Far" in 2008.

Michaels will release his autobiography, "Roses and Thorns: The Rock 'n' Roll Fantasy to My Reality" in 2010 and tours constantly with his solo band.

"I would play music whether I made it in the industry or not," Michaels told a journalist and it's that commitment to his art that continues to keep him at the forefront of the entertainment industry. IER

At the conclusion of the storytelling, children can participate in the many activities in the museum's courtyard, including games, learning centers and even getting their very own library cards. Parents can receive information on the importance of early reading and how to incorporate books into their daily routines. The event will also focus on the importance of the parents' role to read early and read aloud to their sons and daughters.

"Current research overwhelmingly supports the importance of facilitating early and emerging literacy skills in preschool-age children as a critical foundation for literacy development," Karen Scott, Executive Director of First 5 San Bernardino, said. Studies have shown that children who are read to often are more successful in school, helps with their brain stimulation and builds their self esteem and listening skills.

Research shows that a child's brain develops most dramatically in the first five years and what parents and caregivers do during these years to support their child's growth will have a meaningful impact throughout life. Based on this research, California voters passed Proposition 10 in 1998, adding a 50 cents-per-pack tax on cigarettes to support programs for expectant parents and children ages 0 to 5.

The San Bernardino County Museum is located at 2024 Orange Tree Lane in Redlands. For more information about All Aboard the Reading Railroad, school readiness programs or literacy tips, call (909)-386-7706 or visit www.first5sanbernardino.org.
