Put on your dancin' shoes! Buckle up for extreme thrills! Rev up for motorsports and get ready to be entertained - cause it's FAIR TIME! The 2011 Southern California Fair is gearing up to Celebrate the Fun.

Fair admission includes a lot to do: all the great shows like The Live Shark Encounter, Mitchell Marionettes Showboat Theater, Turkey Races (you've seen them on Dirty Jobs with Mike Rowe) and even a man that climbs inside a balloon. Join for a good time with Family Fun Contests - like funnel cake eating and corn shucking. Enjoy wonderful exhibits including the free hands-on Sealife Encounters - with live stingrays. Also on the schedule is live music and local acts.

The Fair offers nine days and nights of spine-tling motor sports. All your favorites will be there - Monster Trucks, Freestyle MX, Demolition Derby, Sprint Car Races and the return of RV Motor Home Demolition Derby (you have to see it to believe it). Also returning this year is the incredible Auto Soccer: watch teams try to maneuver the "ball" (a giant tire) into the goal with their cars.

Exhibits and livestock are a favorite and important part of a blue ribbon fair. Jams and jellies, carving and canning, quality quilts, landscaping and lace - there are hundreds of exhibits. This year you will even see a real house being built by Habitat for Humanity.

The Southern California Fair is a great place to make family memories and enjoy incredible entertainment. The Fair runs from Oct. 8 through Oct. 16 and costs $8 for 8 years and older. Visit their website for more savings options.

For additional information visit socalfair.com or call the Fair office at (951) 657-4221. IER

Observation planes like this Grumman OV-1 Mohawk will be featured during the Planes of Fame Air Museum's Living History Flying Event on Saturday, Nov. 5.

Planes of Fame Looks at Eyes in the Sky

Aerial Observation and Forward Air Control Missions will be the subject of the Living History Flying Event hosted by Planes of Fame Air Museum at the Chino Airport on Saturday, Nov. 5. The event will begin at 10am with a seminar describing the very first military mission of manned aircraft and conclude with a flight demonstration by a Planes of Fame Air Museum warbird.

Decades before the Wright Brothers made the first manned, powered flight, aerial observation was a primary mission of aircraft in the form of manned balloons. As far back as the 18th Century, and during the 19th Century as well, especially in the American Civil War, observation balloons were used to effectively track the movements of enemy forces and direct artillery fire. That mission was subsequently passed on to manned aircraft during World War I.

At each monthly Living History Flying Event, members in attendance can have their names entered into a drawing for a free member-supported warbird orientation flight.

Open to the public from 10am until 5pm Sunday through Friday, and from 9am until 5pm on Saturday, Planes of Fame Air Museum is only closed on Christmas and Thanksgiving. General admission is $11, youngsters 5-11 are admitted for $4, and admission is free for accompanied children under five. For More information, call (909)597-7576; or visit the Planes of Fame Air Museum's website at www.planesoffame.org.

Big Horse Corn Maze & Harvest Festival

PUMPKIN PATCH • FESTIVAL

CORONA

The end of summer traditionally brings harvest time at many of the local farmers that once were a staple of the Inland Empire. With the change of seasons comes the annual opening of the Big Horse Corn Maze, Pumpkin Patch, and Harvest Festival at the Big Horse Feed & Mercantile in southern Temecula.

Big Horse features 12 acres of corn maze in the design of "California Farmers Feeding the World." This, the 11th authentic corn maze on the property, is traditionally focused on either patriotic or agricultural themes as many mazes are through the county. As the largest one in Southern California, visitors are drawn from as far away as Santa Barbara, Victorville and the Desert communities to pay for the chance to get lost for an hour or two in 6-8' corn stalks.

Pumpkin bowling, corn cannon, pig races, and ducky races round out the entrainment that can take an afternoon to get through.

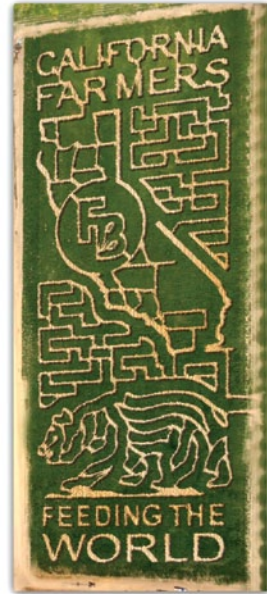

One aspect of the recent harvest festivals that is unique to Big Horse is the planning and grooming of a full-sized baseball diamond in the corn field, ala the movie by Kevin Costner in 1989, Field of Dreams.

A good swat of the bat can drive a baseball into the corn stalks just as Joe Johnson and Ty Cobb portrayed in the movie.

Special to this year is the addition of unique craft exhibitions on the weekends of rare talents such as gold panning, sheep shearing, blacksmithing, and even an old-fashioned pie eating contest.

The Big Horse Corn Maze is open Oct. 8 through Halloween the 31st. Hours are Sat/Sun: 10am – 4pm, and Weekdays 1pm – 5pm. More information is available on the festival website at www.bighorsecornmaze.com.

Get lost in 8' stalks of corn at the Big Horse Corn Maze.

Get Your Kicks With Sherry Williams

SUN, NOV. 6

Temecula's own international jazz vocalist, Sherry Williams, will once again front the All Star Big Band singing the swing and jazz standards reminiscent of Ella Fitzgerald, Lena Horn, Sarah Vaughan and Natalie Cole in a concert on Sunday, Nov. 6, at 2pm.

Williams' long professional career includes gigs with many of the world's great jazz and pop musicians, plus appearances on The Tonight Show, The Glen Campbell Show, and The Della Reese Show.

Sherry's vocal styling is unmistakably her own. Her fondness for a well-turned lyric always ensures superb song selection to complement her astonishingly buttery voice.

The All Star Big Band is an 18 piece group put together by Jeff Stover that features the best musicians from Palm Springs, Los Angeles, and the Inland Empire areas. The band contains many-musicians who are themselves leaders of big bands such as Bill Tole (trombone), leader of the Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra and Doc Poster (trumpet), leader of the Harry James Tribute Orchestra. Band member Ken Dahleen (saxophone) is the leader of the Big Band Staff and producer of the Idyllwild Summer concert series and Don Rice (saxophone) is leader of The Temple of Folly, the house band at the Mammoth Jazz Festival.

For more information visit their website at www.jazznart.com/onstage-musicals or call the Temecula Theater at 1-866-OLD-TOWN. Tickets are $37, $35, $31, and $25.

Tickets on Sale for the CATS Adaptation of 'A Christmas Carol'

The Community Arts Theater Society of Big Bear Valley (CATS) announced that it will present its original stage adaptation of A Christmas Carol, beginning Friday, Nov. 18 at the Big Bear Lake Performing Arts Center with a special discount preview. The show plays a total of 11 performances with 7:30pm evening shows on Nov. 18, 19, 22, 25, 26, 30, Dec. 2 and 3 and 1:30pm matinees on Nov. 20, 27, and Dec. 4.

All performances are reserved seating and prices range from $16 to $27 for adults, $15 to $25 for seniors and $9 to $18 for students/children, depending on date and location of seats. Tickets are now on sale through the CATS website at www.bigbeartheater.org and at the PAC Box office at (909) 866-4970.

This new version of the Charles Dickens classic was specially adapted for CATS by its director Karen-Sargent Rachels and was originally presented in 2009. Rachels was inspired by a chance remark from an Antiques Roadshow appraiser of a letter written by Charles Dickens, telling a member of Royalty that he, himself, was unable to procure tickets to one of his sold-out concert readings for her. The appraiser mentioned that getting tickets to a Dickens reading was like trying to get tickets to a Bruce Springsteen concert. Further research indicated that Dickens made two trips to America, also doing a series of concert readings of this work. From this premise, this CATS adaptation of A Christmas Carol, featuring the character of Charles Dickens, was born.

Much of Dickens original narrative is retained in this version, and is brought to life on stage by a cast of over 60 actors of all ages. Another CATS innovation for this stage production is the involvement of the Clock Sprites, a group of mischievous sprites who live in The Clock and help the spirits redeem Mr. Scrooge. LER

Sinfonia Mexicana presents 'Dia de Los Muertos – Gala Celebration'

Sinfonia Mexicana's Día de Muertos Gala Concert celebrates Mexico's most colorful and magical holiday by honoring the legacies of Mexico's most beloved artists—the singers and composers who forged the modern mariachi tradition—and celebrating the lives of our loved ones who are no longer with us. This is a family celebration, with gleeful, dancing skeletons and spooky songs for the kids, but also world-class performance by a mariachi like no other with 23 musicians, and featuring the best and most versatile singers in the world.

Hear the music of Javier Solis, Jose Alfredo Jimenez, Lola Beltran, Lucha Reyes, Agustín Lara, María Grever, Pedro Infante, Jorge Negrete, and others.

El día de los muertos is one of the biggest holidays in Mexico and celebrations are becoming more common in areas of the United States, with a large Hispanic population. Its origins are distinctly Mexican. During the time of the Aztecs, a month long summer celebration was overseen by the goddess Mictecacihuatl, the Lady of the Dead. After the Aztecs were conquered by Spain and Catholicism became the dominant religion, the customs became intertwined with the Christian commemoration of All Saints' Day on November 1.

Specifics of the celebration vary with region, but one of the most common customs is the making of elaborate altars to welcome departed spirits home. Vigils are held and families often go to cemeteries to fix up the graves of their departed relatives. Festivities frequently include traditional foods such as pan de muerto (bread of the dead), which can conceal a miniature skeleton. Plans for the day are made throughout the year, including gathering the goods to be offered to the dead. During the two-day period, families usually clean and decorate graves. Most visit the cemeteries where their loved ones are buried and decorate their graves with ofrendas (offerings), which often include orange marigolds called "cempasúchitl." In modern Mexico, this name is sometimes replaced with the term "Flor de Muerto" ("Flower of the Dead"). These flowers are thought to attract souls of the dead to the offerings. Toys are brought for dead children (los angelitos, or "the little angels"), and bottles of tequila, mezcal or pulque or jars of atole for adults. Families will also offer trinkets or the deceased's favorite candies on the grave. Ofrendas are also put in homes, usually with foods, sugar skulls and beverages such as atole. The ofrendas are left out in the homes as a welcoming gesture for the deceased.

Some people believe the spirits of the dead eat the "spiritual essence" of the ofrendas food, so even though the celebrators eat the food after the festivities, they believe it lacks nutritional value. Pillows and blankets are left out so that the deceased can rest after their long journey. In some parts of Mexico, such as the towns of Mixquic, Pátzcuaro and Janitzio, people spend all night beside the graves of their relatives. Some families build altars or small shrines in their homes, these usually have the Christian cross, statues or pictures of the Blessed Virgin Mary, pictures of deceased relatives and other persons, scores of candles and an ofrenda. Traditionally, families spend some time around the altar, praying and telling anecdotes about the deceased. In some locations, celebrants wear shells on their clothing, so that when they dance, the noise will wake up the dead; some will also dress up as the deceased.

Sinfonia Mexicana was voted San Bernardino county's "best" live entertainment of 2011 by readers of the Sun and Redlands Daily Facts newspapers. As a "thank you" to the community for its continued support, Sinfonia is offering limited $11 seats for the Día de Los Muertos event.

Tickets may be purchased by calling the Sinfonia Mexicana office at (909) 884-3228 or toll free 1-866-687-4284 or visit their business office at the California Theatre of the Performing Arts, 562 W. 4th Street (between E and F streets) in San Bernardino. Aside from producing, Jack is on stage for every show conducting the orchestra and choir while Tommy is the host, emcee and performs on guitar. The video game industry puts on the show to help encourage and support the art and culture that video games have become. Video Games Live bridges a gap for entertainment by exposing new generations of music lovers and fans to the sym-

In 2010, Video Games Live and PBS joined forces to create an exclusive nationwide PBS special based around the highly successful Video Games Live concert series.

Recently described by the New York Times as "Captivating!" and "Bombastic!", the record breaking and award winning Video Games Live has continued its mission to demonstrate to the world how artistic and culturally significant video games and their music have become. "This is an incredible opportunity for us to reach an audience that normally may not be familiar with how far video games have come and how amazing the music can be," said prolific game composer and CEO of Video Games Live, Tommy Tallarico.

Trains Bring Gardens To Life At The Southwest Garden Railroad Show

Railroads have always had a warm spot in people's hearts. Almost everyone can tell a story of how trains have affected them or a family member. The Southwest Garden Railroad Show (SWGRS) brings all those memories back and gives us all the opportunity to get together and enjoy the real thing down to the model trains.

This will be the 4th annual show held at the Fairplex in Pomona. The show will be held on Nov. 5-6, from 9am to 5pm both days. Admission for the show is $10 for adults, kids 16 and under are free.

During that weekend, a great railroad museum, the oldest and probably the biggest garden railroad, will both be open, along with a miniature train ride for the kids, railroad displays from around the west coast, and manufacturers and vendors selling the best in large scale model trains. SWGRS also boasts a large live steam track; many garden railroaders run trains just like the real steam locomotives.

Large scale trains have been growing in popularity for some time and southern California is a great environment to add trains to your garden. Imagine railroad tracks winding in and out of landscaping, plants, miniature structures, around ponds, through tunnels, and across bridges. Garden railroading is a hobby that involves the entire family and a challenge for the average gardener. Herbs, dwarf plants, and miniature trees and a little creativity are used to create an illusion of a little world inside your garden giving it some animation and making it come alive. G scale trains are a very diversified scale of model trains and great for people of all ages. Adults will find they are very detailed and durable. Kids like the large size and how they stay on the tracks. Trains can run by track power, battery, solar, and live steam. Examples of all will be at the show.

SWGRS is one of only four large scale model train shows in the United States. It not only brings the sights and sounds of railroading, it also provides seminars on multiple aspects of the hobby, included with admission. Learn from experts and get the chance to converse with many others with similar interests from all over the country.

This year a railroad engineer's hat will be given away to every child coming to the show, while quantities last.

Mainstreet Theatre Company Opens 6th Season with 'Honus and Me: A Baseball Card Adventure'

Audience members might be forgiven if they think they have arrived at a baseball stadium by mistake when the MainStreet Theatre Company opens its 2011/2012 season of professional theatre for young audiences in October. Do not let the peanut and Cracker Jacks sellers in the lobby fool you. They will just be setting the stage for the baseball-themed opening production of MainStreet's 6th season.

Honus and Me, adapted by Steven Dietz from the novel by Dan Gutman, opens Oct. 1 and runs through Oct. 16 at Rancho Cucamonga's Lewis Family Playhouse, located at 12505 Cultural Center Drive.

The play is based on the first in a series of Baseball Card Adventure books by author Dan Gutman about Little Leaguer Joey Stoshack. Joey lives for baseball, but is not a great player – in fact, he is known as the strikeout-king.

But magical things happen when Joey touches a baseball card – and in this surprising play, the card he touches is none other than the famous T-206 Honus Wagner – the most valuable card in the world! The story brings the legendary ball player to life and sends Joey back in time to the 1909 World Series.

"Honus and Me is about baseball, of course. We are thrilled to be doing it here in Rancho Cucamonga, which is such a baseball town! But it is also about families, about continuing to try even when you think you should give up and about learning how to do the right thing. The play is a real gem and we are hoping that all families, whether they enjoy baseball or not, will come out and enjoy it together," MainStreet Producer Mireya "Murry" Hepner said.

Steven Dietz is one of America's most widely produced and published contemporary playwrights. Since 1983, his plays have been seen at over one hundred regional theatres in the United States, as well as Off-Broadway and all over the world. He is the recipient of many awards, including the PEN U.S.A. Award in Drama (for Lonely Planet), the Kennedy Center Fund for New American Plays Award (Fiction and Still Life With Iris); the Lila Wallace/Reader's Digest Award (The Rememberer); and many others. In addition to Honus and Me, first produced by the Seattle Children's Theatre in 2006, Dietz's adaptations for children include Go, Dog, Go!, with Alison Gregory (produced in MainStreet's 2007/2008 season) and Jackie and Me, based on another book in the "& Me" series.

MainStreet has gathered talent from all over Southern California to bring the play to life. In the case of Honus and Me, the team not only includes tremendously talented artists, but a group of true baseball fans. Director Abigail Deser, a dedicated Little League mom, returns to MainStreet after staging Lilly's Purple Plastic Purse last season. Abigail's career took her from New York to Chicago, where she was a member of the late great Roadworks Productions and a three-time guest of the Steppenwolf Theater Company, among many others.

Set designer Tom Buderwitz's (who coached his own son's Little League team for many years) extensive regional and Los Angeles theatre credits include South Coast Repertory, Geffen Playhouse, Intiman Theatre, Pasadena Playhouse, Laguna Playhouse, Hudson Theater, Odyssey Theater, Reprise Theater Company, Celebration Theater and Theatre at Boston Court.

The cast is led by Kevin Stidham as Joey and Cody Lyman as Honus Wagner. Kevin knows firsthand what it is like to be a young ballplayer. He started playing baseball when he was twelve in England and by the time he was seventeen, after playing for the Under-eighteen Great Britain National Team, his American coach suggested he come to Southern California to play. With his parents' permission, he moved to America and pursued baseball while attending high school in Cerritos. As he entered college, he found his way into theatre. Stidham's credits include productions at Theatre Banshee in Los Angeles and the Virginia Shakespeare Festival, among others.

Cody Lyman (Honus Wagner) has spent the last eight years touring the country in the one man show Defending the Caveman, but also has ties to baseball – he spent a season as the PA announcer for the famed Saint Paul Saints.

Oct. 9 is being designated as "Little League Day" at the Playhouse, with special games and activities for kids before the performance.

Honus and Me, appropriate for ages six years and up, runs Saturdays at 1pm and 4pm and Sundays at 1pm (no performance on Oct. 2). Tickets are $16 for general admission, and $14 for seniors and youth.

An intimate, 536-seat venue, the Lewis Family Playhouse is located in the Victoria Gardens Cultural Center in Rancho Cucamonga. For additional information or to purchase tickets online, visit www.lewisfamilyplayhouse.com or call the Lewis Family Playhouse Box Office at (909) 477-2752 or (877) 858-8422.
