The Power of Joy

When you recollect a memory, you must think with your brain, to feel with your heart. When you look at a memorable picture, you must see with your eyes, to feel with your heart. What if while trying to see that picture you were blind. Would you be able to see with your eyes to feel with your heart? No. That is why memories are so profoundly amazing. You don't need eyes to feel joy.

EVENT: FEBRUARY 20-22

Go Victorian at the RIVERSIDE DICKENS FESTIVAL

A DICKENS OF A GOOD TIME Charles Dickens, as portrayed by Paul Jacques, a local actor, director, and drama teacher.

Turn back the hands of time in Downtown Riverside with help from the Riverside Dickens Festival, Feb. 20-22, at the Main Street Pedestrian Mall near City Hall. In its 22nd year, the literary festival emphasizes the 19th century works of authors of England and America, with Charles Dickens as the central figure. Through drama, art, music, dance and cultural events, the festival portrays the life and times of another era.

More than 150 costumed performers portraying eminent Victorians and characters from Dickens' novels will stroll the street. Musical acts include harmony singers, bawdy belles, and sea shanties. Waltz to live music, with lessons provided. A marketplace with vendors will meet your every need, from costumes, housewares, and sheet music to Victorian scientific equipment. Watch the pageantry of a military parade, see a gatling gun in action, and meet Her Majesty, Queen Victoria. Enjoy a pint at the pub, traditional foods at a dining house, and much more.

The festival runs 10am to 5pm on Feb. 21-22 with the main festival events free of admission. Feb. 20 also features a special Pickwick's Pub Night (with admission). On Feb. 21, take part in Mr. Fezziwig's Ball (admission for dancers and observers with children under 12 free) from 8pm to midnight.

The Riverside Dickens Festival is sponsored by the City of Riverside, the Riverside Arts Council, and Riverside County Supervisors. For more information, go online to www.dickensfest.com or call (800) 430-4140 or (951) 781-3168.

History

In 1992, Carolyn Grant, Joan Patton and The Friends of the Library Board of Directors began to explore the creation of a festival for Riverside. A five-person steering committee was formed and the Riverside Dickens Festival was born in September, 1993.

Their objective was to enhance a sense of community among citizens of Riverside County, the Inland Empire, and Southern California by creating a series of literary events that bring people together from all segments of society, and to provide family-oriented entertainment such as drama, musical performances, living history workshops, lectures, classroom study, museum and library exhibits and street fair. IER

Big Surprises In Store For The Popular Fashion Show In 2015

In keeping with the Little Dorrit theme of imprisonment, the 2015 fashion show titled "Criminal Minds" will feature some of Victorian England's most notorious characters. The show will be full of characters you'll love to hate and Sunday's performance will feature Steampunk villains both real and imaginary. You won't want to miss one of the festival's most enduringly popular events and come prepared to boo and hiss!

The Ten Bells Tavern

A 21 and Over Venue - ID Required

During the Festival, take a load off your feet and join everyone for a pint of ale in Ten Bells Tavern. Throughout the day, Tavern Mistress Bad Baby Babs will invite you in for a fabulous show featuring a variety of entertainers not fit for the more refined stage. Beer, wine and snacks will be provided by our friends at the Packing House Brewing Company.

The Ten Bells Tavern is a place where you can get off your feet, grab a seat, see your favorite author, loosen up that corset and leave your hat at the door (but you just might "lose" it!)

Named after one of the famed "Ripper" Taverns, The Ten Bells is a 21 and over only venue featuring Beer & Wine provided by the Packing House Brewing Company. Continuous entertainment is scheduled featuring Can-Can dancers, Comedy acts, Singers, Musicians, and more! This is where Bad Baby Babs (the Mistress of the Tavern) will greet the Victorian working class at the door and invite them in to play and forget their troubles! The Upper crust is equally welcomed, as Babs cares not where the shilling originated as long as it ends up on her table! Although you will never find the Queen in The Ten Bells, you are sure to be entertained and leave with a smile (or smirk) on your face. We invite you to come see for yourself!

22nd Annual Riverside Dickens Festival

Feb. 20, Pickwick's Pub Night; Feb. 21 & 22, 10am to 5pm, main Festival days; Feb. 21, 8pm to Midnight, Mr. Fezziwig's Ball.

For more information, call (800) 430-4140, (951) 781-3168, or go online to www.dickensfest.com.

Mr. Pickwick's Pub

Once again, we have the opportunity to be transported back to England's night life and through the doors of Mr. Pickwick's pub. Mr. Dickens invites everyone to join him there on Friday, February 20, 2015 to kick off the Riverside Dickens Festival. Last year's "Return to Pub Nights Past" in a larger room with an improved sound system was a rousing success. Mr. Pickwick again promises good food and exciting entertainment.

The ticket price remains the same, $35 per person, which includes one drink and is available on their website.

Don't be left out in the cold; order your tickets now and join Mr. Pickwick, along with his faithful band of talented zanies, for an evening of good eats, cold drinks and bawdy entertainment!

The beer and ale will once again be provided by Packinghouse Brewing Company, named as a nostalgic tribute to the original citrus packinghouses of Riverside.

A buffet will be presented this year so that all participants will have a choice of food to meet their dietary needs. The buffet includes, pot roast, shepherd's pie, vegetables, salad, cold cuts, bread and butter.

In addition to the on stage music and performers, the pub will have a magician who will perform table magic. There will also be opportunity baskets offered and wine is available.

Pub Night Sing-alongs will include Ta Ra Ra Boom, A Drop of Nelson's Blood, Seven Old Ladies Locked in the Laboratory, Daisy Daisy, The Hippopotamus Song, and King Caraticus. Words will be provided for those who do not know the songs by heart.

Oliver's Alley Is The Place To Be For The Under 12 Set

Dame Fuzzy's Tea Room will feature a grown up Alice and the Queen of Hearts from Lewis Carroll's Alice In Wonderland who will discuss proper manners for Victorian children while costumed servers deliver "tea".

Aloha Smith as Peggotty from David Copperfield will share Victorian tales and songs as well as demonstrate the art of spinning wool. Joining Peggotty in the new storytelling/entertainment area will be Patti Amelotte with her harpsichord, Simon Spalding with his fiddle, and storytellers Bill Howard and True Thomas.

Children will have the opportunity to make a Cup & Ball game and an unique cloth doll at the craft area. The dress-up trunk will return and children will pick that special ensemble to wear for their photo.

The games area will enthrall with games from a bygone day which require no batteries and no chargers – just kid power. They can learn to play marbles, jacks and pick-up sticks and try their hand at the ever popular Fish in a Barrel game.

Oliver's Alley was conceived to provide children with a fun and free Dickensian experience and is funded by a Community Arts Partnership grant from the Riverside Arts Council.

Trial Of Lizzie Borden

The most famous unsolved mystery in American history was the murder of Andrew and Abby Borden in 1892 at Fall River, Massachusetts and the innocence or guilt of daughter Lizzie Borden. As play material, the Borden murders were lowhanging fruit because we have transcripts of the inquest, the grand jury proceedings, and and Lizzie's murder trial.

THE ACCUSED Lizzie Borden

Abby Borden, Lizzie's stepmother, was found upstairs, the back of her head hacked like a cabbage. Andrew Borden, Lizzie's father, sprawled on the parlor love seat, had been hatched in his sleep: his visage a veritable purée of facial features.

Had Lizzie Borden been found guilty, even these grizzly hatchet murders might have faded into obscurity, relegated to historical trivia along with the assassination of President Garfield and the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby.

The jury acquitted Lizzie, but the good people of Fall River still thought she was guilty. The Trial Of Lizzie Borden gives the audience and jury a chance to decide, for themselves, whether Lizzie murdered her father or whether one of the other parties of interest had the motive and opportunity to kill one of the wealthiest and most disliked citizens of Fall River, banker Andrew Borden. Lizzie's behavior was suspicious. Why did she hide out in the barn during the murders? How could she not have noticed her stepmother's body in the guest bedroom? Why did she not have breakfast that morning? Why did she, days later, burn a red-stained dress?

What of the other suspects? Was it a coincidence that Uncle John Morse came to visit the day before? Why did Uncle John, like Lizzie, get his pear off the tree instead from the basket in the kitchen? Why did Dr. Bowen keep dosing Lizzie with morphine for weeks after the murders? Why was everyone in the Borden household always arguing about real estate? Is it true that Andrew Borden had a bastard son? And what about that mysterious burglary a few months prior where nothing was stolen from the Borden house except a few baubles and a couple of trolley tickets?

Lizzie never left Fall River. Instead of moving away, like her sister, Emma, did, she bought a grand house up on the hill overlooking the town and took up with a troop of actors. She had been found "not guilty". Whether she did it or not, the law couldn't touch her now.

The murder weapon was never found. Did Lizzie stay in Fall River to guard the evidence?

The police never caught the murderer. Did Lizzie remain simply to gloat from her perch over the town?

The town never forgave her for the sensational, international headlines. Did they know something we don't?

Those are the questions to be answered at The Trial Of Lizzie Borden held during the Riverside Dickens Festival.

A court illustration of the trial.

February at The Cave in Big Bear

The Cave in Big Bear is having an amazing lineup in February that includes: Gin Blossoms, James Otto, ALO, Puddle of Mudd, and Foghat.

The Cave is a 400-seat concert venue, located in the heart of Big Bear Village in the San Bernardino Mountains. Established in 2013, The Cave has hosted musical acts that included: Colt Ford, Berlin, Marshall Tucker Band, Bill Medley, and Iration. The Cave books nostalgic entertainers of the 20th century and some of today's most up-and-coming rock, pop, and country performers. Comedy shows and other live entertainment are all part of the lineup at The Cave, which features a full bar and state-of-the-art audio and visuals. Shows are for all ages, unless otherwise indicated.

The Cave is located at 40789 Village Dr. in Big Bear Lake. For more information, go online to www.thecavebigbear.com.

Gin Blossoms Feb. 6

Taking their name from a caption on a W.C. Fields photo, Gin Blossoms signed a record deal with A&M and recorded their first EP "Up And Crumbling" in 1991. But, it was not until their breakout record "New Miserable Experience" in 1992 that their rise to fame began. "New Miserable Experience" kept the band on the charts for almost 3 years with singles "Hey Jealousy," "Allison Road," "Until I Fall Away," "Mrs Rita," and "Found Out About You." The album took the airwaves by siege and held MTV hostage with multi cross-over hits in 4 different radio formats. It was this record that rocketed the band into the mainstream going on to sell over 4 million copies making the band a 90's radio mainstay

James Otto Feb. 7

There's a certain chemistry that happens when a great vocalist collides with a hit song. Magic just explodes from the speakers and the impact is undeniable. It's a phenomenon James Otto knows well. His breakthrough hit, "Just Got Started Lovin' You," topped the country chart and was the Most Played Country Single of the Year in 2008, according to Billboard magazine. Otto's bluesy, muscular voice and dynamic stage presence earned him the respect of industry gatekeepers and the adoration of legions of country music fans.

However, there's more to life than chart success and constant touring. Real country music is fed by life experience and Otto stepped away from the spotlight to focus on family and pour his life into a new season of songwriting. Now he's returned to recording with an infectious new single, "Somewhere Tonight," that reveals a renewed commitment to creating his own unique brand of country

Puddle of Mudd Feb. 13

Ask Puddle of Mudd frontman Wes Scantlin about the writing and recording of the album Volume 4: Songs in the Key of Love & Hate, and he responds with the same spirit of carefree wanderlust that defines his band: "It's all easy peasy, dude, no big deal at all..."

Not to him, maybe. Wes Scantlin is custom-made for the new millennium, a rock star without the pretense, and a frontman whose spontaneity propels his offstage personality as much as it does his onstage delivery. "Wes is constantly adjusting to the vibe in the room, throwing his flavor in there and constantly trying to make people laugh," explains bassist Doug Ardito. "He doesn't do the David Lee Roth thing, where he delivers the same lines every night, he's completely off-the-cuff."

Foghat Feb. 21

In the late 1960's Roger Earl & Lonesome Dave Peverett first toured America as members of the British Blues band Savoy Brown. In 1971, wanting to give their music a more Rock 'n Roll feel they enlisted lead/slide guitarist Rod Price and bassist Tony Stevens, formed a new band, Foghat, and the rest is part of Rock and Roll history.

Signed to Bearsville Records in 1971, the band recorded and began touring relentlessly for the next 14 years. Their hard work has thus far been rewarded with seven Gold records, one Platinum record "Fool For The City" (1975), and one Double-Platinum record "Foghat Live" (1977). The "Fool For The City" album contained Foghat's trademark Top 40 hit song "Slow Ride" and cemented their place as one of the world's top rock acts. They continued to hit the charts in the 70's with singles such as "Fool For The City," "Drivin' Wheel," "I Just Want to Make Love To You," "Stone Blue," "Third Time Lucky" and "Somebody's Been Sleeping In My Bed," many of which are still classic rock radio staples.

Broadway At The Gardens Presents Sondheim On Sondheim, February 7th

An incredibly intimate look at the father of the modern musical, Sondheim on Sondheim features Grammy nominated, re-imagined arrangements of Mr. Sondheim's most beloved work performed by an all-star local cast led by John LaLonde and Debbie Prutsman. Join the Playhouse for this one-night only performance, Saturday, February 7, at 7:30pm.

Tickets are priced at $30 for General Admission, and $28 for Seniors.

Hailed as a "revelatory revue full of wonderful moments" and a "funny, affectionate and revealing tribute to musical theater's greatest living composer and lyricist," Sondheim on Sondheim is an intimate portrait of the famed songwriter in his own words...and music. Through the use of exclusive interview footage,

"Ranging from the beloved to the obscure, the carefully selected two-dozen songs hang from a framework of in-depth video interviews delving into Sondheim's personal life and artistic process."

audiences get an inside look at the famed composer's personal life and artistic process - his story, his inspiration, his genius. The tapestry of creativity that characterizes Stephen Sondheim remained largely undiscussed, especially by the man himself, until the creation of Sondheim on Sondheim.

Ranging from the beloved to the obscure, the carefully selected two-dozen songs hang from a framework of in-depth video interviews delving into Sondheim's personal life and artistic process. Far from the typical song cycle, Sondheim on Sondheim has massive theatrical potency as well as unarguable staying power. The incomparable James Lapine brilliantly curated a collection of songs that have been masterfully arranged by David Loud. In addition, Sondheim on Sondheim's multimedia facets make it additionally entertaining on the Lewis Family Playhouse stage.

Stephen Sondheim is one of the most highly regarded composer/lyricists in musical theater history. He was a protégé of Oscar Hammerstein II, who is often referred to as the father of the modern musical. Along with director/producer Harold Prince, Sondheim is credited with creating the "concept musical" starting with his show Company. With James Lapine, the conceiver and director of Sondheim on Sondheim, he has written several shows, including the Pulitzer Prize winning Sunday In The Park With George.

White

Over Kathleen Madigan's 25-year career she has performed on nearly every standup television show ever made, Leno, Letterman, Conan, Ferguson and so on. Her third hour-long special, Madigan Again, which iTunes named one of the Best Comedy Albums of 2013, premiered on September 11 exclusively on Netflix in the U.S., Canada, Europe and Latin America, and is now available on CD, DVD and audio or video download. Previously she's released 4 CDs and 2 DVDs and starred in 2 HBO specials, 3 Comedy Central specials, 3 CMT Salute to the Troops specials with Ron White and her last hour-long special, Gone Madigan, premiered on Showtime and is available on Netflix.

2014 is packed with theater gigs and appearances on late night television. It's been a 25-year career of 300 nights a year on the road. She's gone from one nighters, to club gigs, to theaters, to headlining the Mirage in Las Vegas.

Kathleen won the American Comedy

Award for "Best Female Comedian," the Phyllis Diller award for "Best Female Comedian" and has performed on two USO tours to Iraq and Afghanistan. Kathleen is the only comedian in the history of NBC's Last Comic Standing to go unchallenged by any other comedian—meaning no comedian would say they were funnier than her; Kathleen was a top three finalist in Season 2 and a judge on Season 5. She has done live remotes and commentary on numerous shows including Dr. Phil, E!, TV Guide Network, VH1, ESPN 2 and The Tonight Show with Jay Leno.

CSUSB Brings Scandalous Hollywood Television To The Stage With 'Family Of Mann'

The subject behind recent Hollywood news is at the very heart of this production

The Cal State San Bernardino Department of Theatre Arts delves into a TV sitcom writer's room to explore a very relevant subject, as department chair Terry Donovan Smith directs The Family of Mann, by Theresa Rebeck.

Set in the mid-1990s, The Family of Mann deals with contemporary issues of sexism and racism in a convergence of fantasy and reality that is sure to turn a few heads.

Just how much abuse could you endure for the sake of your dream? Belinda quickly begins to wonder this very thing shortly after scoring a job as a sitcom writer starring Hollywood royalty. But once the pressures of working in an ego-driven, testosterone-filled writers' room sets in, reality begins to shift, and the truth behind the "City of Angels" begins to reveal itself.

Or ... it could be that she's just losing her mind.

Myth Meets Modern In Chaffey's Metamorphoses

Chaffey College Campus Theatre is being transformed into a huge, shimmering pool of water for the upcoming Chaffey College Theatre Art's production of Mary Zimmerman's award winning play, Metamorphoses.

Metamorphoses takes the audience on an intimate journey into the timeless world of classic mythology. Metamorphoses comprises a string of myths which touch on themes of love, redemption and responsibility, and feature key characters like King Midas, Aphrodite, Cupid and Bacchus.

"Theater event of the year," Mary Zimmerman's Metamorphoses brings Ovid's tales to stunning visual life" states the Time. Set in and around a large pool of water onstage, Metamorphoses juxtaposes the ancient and the contemporary in both language and image to reflect the variety and persistence of narrative in the face of inevitable change. Nominated for three 2002 Tony Awards, including "Best Play," Metamorphoses earned Zimmerman a Tony for "Best Direction of a Play."

Performance dates and times for Metamorphoses are March 26, 27, and 28, at 7:30pm and April 3 and 4 at 7:30pm in the Chaffey College Campus Theatre located on 5885 Haven Avenue in Rancho Cucamonga.

'The Prince And The Pauper' Runs For Three Weeks

MainStreet Theatre Company presents its winter, 2015 production: a clever, fast-paced adaptation of Mark Twain's Classic Novel, The Prince and the Pauper. Abigail Deser is the Director. The production will play eight school performances from February 23rd – February 27th, and open to the public on Saturday, February 28th at 4pm. The strictly limited engagement will run through Sunday, March 15th only.

The Prince and the Pauper tells the tale of two boys in Tudor England, who trade clothes one afternoon and, as a result, accidentally trade lives as well. Tom Canty is a pauper who lives with his abusive father in the slums of London, and Prince Edward is the son of King Henry VIII. In the story, much of the humor comes from the boys' inability to function in each other's worlds, and both the book and this adaptation use comedy and adventure to help shed light on the inequality that existed between the classes. The boys each have many adventures, and in the end, matters are set right again, with Edward resuming his rightful, royal place, and with Tom accepting a position that recognizes his innate wisdom and good heartedness.

In the novel, the boys are confused for each other because they look identical, so doing a stage adaptation requires two actors who can pull off this feat. MainStreet is fortunate in the casting of Jeremy Lelliott (Prince Edward) and Doug Harvey (Tom Canty), who have an uncanny resemblance to each other, and who both happen to have a history with the Theatre Company. Young fans will remember Jeremy as Charles Wallace in the Ovation nominated A Wrinkle in Time, as well as from leading roles in Treasure Island, Cinderella, and Dreams of Ann Frank. Doug Harvey will be remembered as young William in Roald Dahl's The Magic Finger, as well as in leading roles in The Musical Adventures of Flat Stanley, and The Phantom Tollbooth. The rest of the 18+ characters will be played by four versatile performers with the ability to transform into many unique, fully realized characters. In addition to Mr. Lelliott and Mr. Harvey, the first-rate cast of Los Angeles based Equity actors includes Meghan Andrews, Michael Faulkner, Arthur Hanket, and David Ross Paterson.

MainStreet also welcomes back director Abigail Deser, who staged last season's award winning The Magic Finger, as well as previous productions of Honus and Me, and Lilly's Purple Plastic Purse. Abigail is a director, dramaturge and acting coach, and her work has been seen in numerous theatres including at L.A. Philharmonic's Disney Hall, Steppenwolf Theatre in Chicago, and currently, at Theatre @ Boston Court in Pasadena.

MainStreet is known for its stunning physical productions, and this show will be no exception. The Prince and the Pauper will include period costumes designed by Sherry Linnell, an inventive set by Michael C. Smith that will transform from the slums to the palace as quickly as the actors, and a soundscape full of period music and effects created by Martin Carrillo. Brian Danner will provide Fight choreography, and Jaymi Lee Smith will transform each location with her lighting design. Prop Design is by Jenny Smith. Julie Haber is Production Stage Manager. Mireya (Murry) Hepner serves as Artistic Director and Producer of the City of Rancho Cucamonga's MainStreet Theatre Company.

Author Jonathan Bolt is a writer, director and actor. He is the book author of the musical Glimmerglass, produced at the Goodspeed Opera House, and of six plays and musicals produced by Theatreworks USA, one of the largest Theatre for Young Audiences Company in the country. Mr. Bolt is a principal director at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York, and head of the third year production company. MainStreet produced his adaptation of Treasure Island in 2010.

The MainStreet Theatre Company is the resident Equity Company at the Lewis Family Playhouse, producing innovative shows specifically for children and family audiences. MainStreet's unique interpretations of classic and contemporary children's literature are performed for school groups as well as the general public, and introduce many children to the wonder of live theatre for the very first time.

The Prince and the Pauper will play performances on weekends for family audiences (Saturdays at 1pm and 4pm and Sundays at 1pm, except for opening weekend when there is only one performance on Saturday, February 28th at 4pm), and on weekday mornings for school groups, through March 15th.

During the run of The Prince and the Pauper, families can get to know more about MainStreet by attending the opening night party on February 28th, or by staying for a "talk-back" with the cast after the performance on March 8th. Learn more about these special opportunities, and check out the affordable ticket prices and family discounts by visiting the Lewis Family Playhouse's website: www.lewisfamilyplayhouse.com.

Tickets can also be purchased over the phone or in person at the Playhouse Box Office: 909-477-2752. The box office is open Monday through Friday from noon to 6pm and Saturday from 10am to 6pm. IER

The Family of Mann opens Friday, March 13, and runs for eight performances, closing on Sunday, March 22. Performances begin at 8pm, with Sunday matinees at 2pm on March 15 and 22. The production is in the Ronald E. Barnes Theatre on the CSUSB campus.
