Killarney's Pub & Grill

Temecula residents have a chance to celebrate St. Patrick's Day at the city's only authentic Irish pub, Killarney's Pub & Grill. Located on Hwy 79 South in the Wolfcreek shopping center just behind El Polo Loco, Killarney's is the neighborhood pub where families can sit by a warm fire and experience the company and flowing conversations around them while enjoying the best pint this side of Dublin.

The pub blends genuine Irish architecture and bric-a-brac with authentic food and live music creating a uniquely comfortable environment known as craic in Ireland. Socializing while taking pleasure in a great meal and refreshing drink is the legacy of Killarney's.

The majority of the Pub's hand carved bar, furnishings and fixtures were made and shipped directly from Dublin, Ireland. "Our goal was to create the same relaxed and friendly atmosphere that one would find at a pub in Ireland," David Nichols, one of Killarney's owners, said.

Killarney's menu boasts traditional Irish fare such as fish-n-chips, corned beef and cabbage, shepherd's pie, Guinness stew and a variety of boxty dishes along with American dishes such as burgers, salads, steaks, salmon and chicken dishes. On different days of the week Killarney's offers specials such as Taco and 'Tini

Tuesday where you get corned beef and fish tacos with $4.50 selected martinis, Prime Rib Wednesday, as well as Sunday's Service Industry Night where everyone's favorite call drinks start at $3.

Music and entertainment are an essential part of the Killarney experience. While traditional Irish music always fills the pub, Tuesday through Sunday night Killarney's features live, local Irish and rock musicians along with occasional touring bands. If live music doesn't suit your fancy, Killarney's also presents Monday movie night, and will be starting open-mic night on Sundays in the near future. ## Riley's Farm

For anyone who has watched "The Quiet Man" more than once, Riley's Farm in Oak Glen is offering a country setting for your St. Patrick's Day celebration this year. In addition to horse drawn hayrides, the farm chefs will serve a traditional meal of Irish soda bread, corned beef, cabbage, Irish Stew, Roasted Red Potatoes and Bread pudding.

Freeman House and Kathy von Arx, along with the Andy Rau band, will play Irish music and backing up the Old Joe Quartet, singing Irish American parlor songs from the turn of the 20th century--the hay day of the Riley's Farm packing shed, where apples were once (and still are) prepared for market.

"St. Patrick's is too fun of a holiday to be left to the bars and night clubs," Jim Riley, one of the farm's owner-managers, said. "We're going to have little leprechauns running around and pots of chocolate gold for the little ones. Every year, towards St. Patrick's, we see more and more of the crafty little folks running around in the apple orchards, so we need some help tracking them down. The farm could use the gold."

Riley likes to point out that the Irish have a long and proud heritage within the United States. The Irish were part of the American experiment long before the potato famine. The northern Irish helped settle New Hampshire in the 18th century. Paul Revere borrowed his famous horse from an Irish American, Deacon Larkin. The Irish have been valiant soldiers in all of America's conflict, and it is widely reported that Oak Glen itself was founded on St. Patrick's Day, when Enoch Parrish settled here for the first time.

"In most ways, of course, this will be a celebration of the way the Irish have come to live in, and affect, American culture," Riley said. "Many of the songs we think of as 'Irish,' 'My Wild Irish Rose,' 'McNamara's Band,' 'Harrigan' are really American songs written or influenced by the Irish. This will be a celebration of how two great cultures, American and Irish, came to grow together."

The legends of St. Patrick himself are as endearing as the Irish, including the story of the night Ireland's pagan king forbade any fires but to the king. St. Patrick's paschal torch burned in defiance of the tyrant and he defeated the Druid court and converted the pagan court and royal family to Christianity. St. Patrick was even rumored to have risen a giant from his grave, long enough to convert him and send him on to heaven.

That's the stuff that both legends and

Meet the Megalodon!

When you visit the MSAS Astronomy Village in Lake Arrowhead you may be greeted by plenty of wildlife on site.

Hawks and eagles soar overhead. Occasionally at sunrise, a bear, bobcat, or coyote might amble by the perimeter on their way home for a daytime nap. The garden plays host to a world of small creatures, including rabbits, birds, lizards, dragon flies, bees and butterflies.

Step inside to view the library displays and discover the remnants of ancient wildlife that lurk there. Among the exhibits you will find a curious set of teeth ... fossilized shark teeth, around 4 to 5 inches tall. The specimens are from giant sharks that lived between 1.5 and 25 million years ago during the Miocene and Pliocene Epochs. These creatures, known as Carcharodon (rough-tooth) megalodon (giant tooth) would have been between 40 to possibly 90 feet in length. They may have weighed between 70 and 80 thousand pounds or more. Their jaws could open about 6 feet wide and 7 to 9 feet high. C.

megalodon could have swallowed a small car or even a full-grown great white shark.

Although ancient shark fossils are very rare (they had no bones, only cartilage, which disintegrates rather than fossilizing), their teeth have been found all over the world in caves, rivers and embankments. The bone-like material, coated with hard enamel, fossilize so well that they are often found in perfect condition and highly prized by amateur collectors.

In keeping with a long-standing tradition of institutions naming their telescopes, the MSAS Astronomy Village named theirs "Megalodon." The customized optics and library of 200,000,000 objects provide research level viewing opportunities for public and private program participants.

"Megalodon" is housed in the Robert Brownlee Observatory which is open for viewing during SkyQuest Public Programs, school, and scheduled private programs (weather permitting). Attend the SkyQuest Public Program on Saturday, March 4, from 7-9:30pm. The topic is "The Planets of Our Solar System" and includes an entertaining and informative slide lecture, question and answer period, laser tour of the night sky,

Speedway prepares for its 43rd season of racing

and hosted the first race in May of that same year. The Orange Show Speedway was a dirt track until 1964 when it was paved over and stock car racing began in earnest.

In 2003, OSS was renovated and the old surface was completely removed, ground up and used as a base for the new track that included banking of 12 degrees in the turns and six degrees in the straight-a-ways. New asphalt was laid down and the existing track exit was moved from turn three area to the top of the turn two area. The new track exit is safer and more convenient for the racers bringing them down in front of the south grandstands and then to the pit area located behind the south grandstands. The pit area contains pit stalls for 90 competitors with more space as needed in other areas of the facility.

The Orange Show Speedway is an ASA Member Track since 2004 with plans to continue this association beyond 2006. Orange Show Speedway was the first California based track to sign with the ASA Member Track program back in 2004.

The Speedway has drawn many famous drivers to compete, including F1 World Champion Phil Hill, Indy 500 drivers and San Bernardino natives Swede Savage and Bill Scott, Johnny Parsons, Pancho Carter, Danny Ongias, Stan Fox, Billy Boat, Dan Gurney, the Vukovich's, and the Bettenhauser's, among many others. NASCAR drivers have included Winston Cup Champions Bill Elliot and Bobbie Allison, Donnie Allison, Sterling Marlin Hershel McGriff, Ron Esau, Ivan Baldwin, NASCAR Craftsman Truck Champion Ron Hornaday, Jr. and more.

When not hosting high-performance racing, OSS is used for sports exhibitions and large concerts. Concession stands, restrooms, and a seating capacity of 10,000 enable the Orange Show Speedway to accommodate events of all types.

The Orange Show Speedway is located at the NOS Events Center, home of the National Orange Show Festival in San Bernardino. Take the 215 freeway, exit at the Orange Show Road and go north on E Street approximately one half mile to Mill Street

Spectator gates open at 5pm and racing action gets underway at 6:30pm. Admission is $10 for adults, $8 for seniors and military, $2 for juniors 6 to 12 and children under 5 are free.

Hoppy days are here again at the Canyon Crest Towne Centre

Looking for the Easter Bunny? Trying to find an event that has a real "family & friends" feeling to it? If so, you might want to clip this article & stick it on the fridge as a reminder.

Although every event at Canyon Crest Towne Centre seems to grow more popular every year, the folks that pull it all together are committed to maintaining a neighborhood block party atmosphere. On April 8, take your kids to the Towne Centre for egg hunting fun.

Registration for the Egg Scramble begins at 10:30am, Saturday, April 8, for ages 18 months to 10 years old. Children are divided into 4 age groups and the hunt begins at 11am.

It is highly recommended that you arrive early, because so much is packed into the 11am to 2pm time slot, including free photos with the Easter Bunny, free children's craft table, free sculpted balloons, and free face painting (11am-1pm only). One-Day-Only coupons will be handed out to all the grown ups, too.

Special note – On the same day, Saturday, April 8, Neiman Barkus Pet Boutique will host a Riverside Humane Society Pet Adoption event and a professional pet photography opportunity - get a copy of the center's newsletter from any merchant, and look for their free Sitting Fee coupon.

The National Orange Show Sports Center offers horse racing and now bingo

Got a hunch on a pony? The National Orange Show Sports Center in San Bernardino has the facilities for comfortable horse-betting, right in the Inland Empire.

The National Orange Show Sports Center is a 52,000 square foot facility, where sports fans can engage in live para-mutuel satellite wagering coming from dozens of local, national and international horse racing tracks.

There is no shortage of screens to view. The Sports Center features more than 300 color monitors, and a tele-theater with three 100-square foot mega screens. The Main Room has ten additional mega projection screens and a state-of-the-art sound system.

The seating is comfortable, the staff knowledgeable and betters may place wagers at self-service tote machines or work directly with a clerk at the betting windows.

Outside patios allow guests to both watch the action on multiple television screens, but also to indulge in smoking if they wish. A snack bar offers cold and hot food all day and evening, and there is a full service bar with a complete range of adult beverages.

Current Race Programs are always available to assist guests with their handicapping skills. They can also pick up the Pasadena Star News and the highly regarded Daily Racing Form, along with numerous other tip sheets.

Guests at the Sports Center may join the Golden State Rewards Network for free. As they accumulate points, they become eligible for such complimentary rewards as free admission, programs and food and beverages. Enough points can be redeemed for a $120 betting voucher. A free Sunday handicapping contest pays out $4,000 every week, and the first member of the Golden State Rewards Network who picks-six can win a jackpot. The current pool will pay over $80,000.

Special Events such as the Kentucky Derby and the Breeders' Cup fill the Sports Center to capacity, and reservations are always suggested.

Racing normally takes place Wednesday through Sunday, with the doors opening at 10:15am.

Thursday is free for Seniors (62 years and older), with the normal admission price of $4 and free parking daily.

A new addition to the Sports Center is Saturday Night Super-Fast Electronic Bingo. Games begin at 6pm. The buy-in is $10 for 10 games, or $30 for 40 games. Players are offered free coffee and popcorn.

The Sports Center is located at 960 South Arrowhead Avenue (Between Mill Street and Orange Show Road). For additional information and directions, call 909/885-(RACE)7223. ■

Dueling in the Desert

Fencing Open pits combatants in intense swordplay

Duelists will clash at the April 8-9 Palm Desert Open, a Pacific Coast Section fencing tournament held in the Wright Gymnasium at College of the Desert.

Forget the choreographed fights you see on film. The sport of fencing is swift and physical. Fencers face off on a six-foot by 40-foot strip and engage in contests of intense strategy and skill. Combatants move so quickly that strikes are monitored electronically.

Weapons include the foil and epee, with separate competitions for each. Although some fencers compete in more than one category, most focus their energies on a single weapon.

This mixed foil/epee tournament is free and open to the public.

A Nehemiah 'gift' to get your home

If home prices have you wondering if you will ever get a slice of the American dream, there is a special program to help. The Nehemiah Program helps thousands of people achieve home ownership by assisting with down payments.

The program gifts funds up to 6% of the sales price of the home to be applied to the down payment and closing costs. This allows buyers to purchase a home with little or no cash of their own.

Best of all, the funds are a gift, with no repayment required.

New and resale homes are eligible for the Nehemiah Program. The program is available to new and repeat home buyers.

The program is approved by the FHA, which allows charitable organizations to provide gift funds toward nonpayment and closing costs.

For more information, contact Karen Elam at Park Place GMAC Real Estate, at (951) 990-2106.

Variety and yesteryear at the Flamingo

'Shew' and Bobby Goldsboro kick off Spring shows

The Laughlin Flamingo brings a host of talent to the river this March. First, the two time winner of the "Best On-going Show in Laughlin" by the Mohave News readers "A Really Big Shew" kicks off their Spring performance with an all new cast. The production that has been called America's favorite variety show stays true to its concept of showcasing a wide arrange of talent. From magic, singing, dancing, to acrobats you just never know what to expect at the Ed Sullivan tribute, now in its third season at the Club Flamingo Showroom.

"By bringing in new acts we can keep the spontaneity and energy of the Shew alive," Gene Siler, the Shew's producer, said.

The Shew will perform in the Club Flamingo Showroom until April 16. The Spring cast line-up will consist of the magic of Murray, the acrobatic team of Price and McCoy and Ray Anthony performing a tribute to Ritchie Valens. The Shew would not be complete without the peculiar, yet likable, personality of Jerry Hoban portraying Ed Sullivan International Champion of Magic, Murray, will make his debut in Laughlin at the Shew. Also appearing are the international Australian acrobatic team of Price and McCoy, who have made several appearances on television specials in America and have toured over forty-five different cities around the world. Ray Anthony performs a remarkable tribute to Ritchie Valens in the Shew.

Show times are 7pm and 9pm nightly. Tickets are $14.95.

Bobby Goldsboro steps into the Flamingo Ballroom on March 11. Go back in time and remember the days of yesteryear with the hits of the 70's. Bobby Goldsboro's career has seen a remarkable evolution. His performing roots go back to being a guitarist with the legendary Roy Orbison. During Bobby's early days he toured with the Beatles and was an opening act for the Rolling Stones on their first US Tour. He had the highest rated variety show in syndication in the 70's.

A six-time Grammy nominee, Bobby is best known for his singing and musical compositions "Honey," "Watching Scotty Grow" and "Little Green Apple."

Tickets for the Goldsboro concert start at $14.95.

Theater group brings children to the stage

What started as a small group of children has blossomed into an organization enriching the lives of 150 families each year. The Riverside Children's Theatre celebrates its 50th Anniversary in the 2006-2007 school year, continuing a proud Riverside heritage.

Children in kindergarten through eighth grade congregate at Sierra Middle School in Riverside eighteen Saturdays during the Riverside Unified School District calendar year. For three hours children in grade level classes receive instruction from qualified teachers in vocal music, drama and dance. New and continuing students in grades nine and ten may study stagecraft in an additional class. The goal of the group is not to create stars, but to help children develop into fully actualized, confident young adults.

The organization is run by parents and through their volunteerism the children are also able to participate in two full-scale musical productions each year. Live orchestras and colorful costumes add to the production value each year. Three months of nightly practices bring the dream of live theater to fruition at Ramona High School on Magnolia Avenue in Riverside for two weekends each March and December.

This month, the Children's Theatre presents "Cinderella" on March 3, 4, 10 and 11. Shows are at 7:30pm on both Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinees are at 1:30pm each weekend. Tickets are $7 through presale and $10 at the door. Call 951-789-6332 for tickets.

RCT will perform "Peter Pan" in December and "The Wizard of Oz" for their 50th anniversary show in March, 2007.

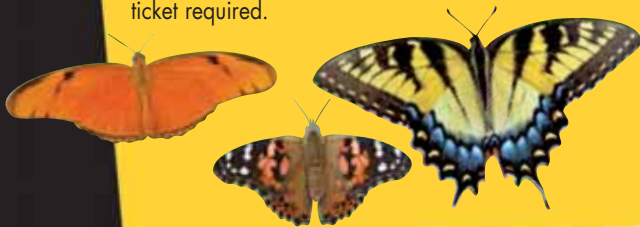

Enrollment for classes is available at any show.

Rollicking 'Play' delivers smart humor

The Riverside Community Players' next production is the delightful and intricate comedy The Play's the Thing by Ferenc Molnar, adapted by P.G. Wodehouse, which first ran on Broadway in 1926 and was last revived there in 1948.

The audience is transported to a gorgeous castle overlooking the Italian Riviera on a beautiful summer's eve, circa 1920 where Sandor Turai (Alan Price), a witty and celebrated playwright, is staying with his collaborator, Mansky (Wayne Astin), and their young composer, Albert (Trevor Boles). Turai has arranged for Albert's fiancée, the prima donna Ilona Szabo (Kerry Jones), to occupy an adjoining suite. Misfortune strikes when, through the paper-thin walls, the three men hear Ilona arrive with her former lover, the aging-Lothario actor Almaday (Ken Lay). Their amorous exchange seems to doom Albert's romance, and he threatens to destroy the score he dedicated to her, until Turai launches an elaborate scheme to convince him Ilona and Almaday were actually rehearsing a play.

From its convention-bending, wink-at-the-audience opening to its punch line ending, The Play's the Thing is a whole lot of fun – a wonderful mixture of sophistication and satire where Oscar Wilde and Noel Coward would feel right at home. Though often described as “a classic farce,” the play is far from the rollicking, bawdy comedy commonly associated with the genre. Rather, the humor is subtle, highbrow, and yet never pretentious.

Rounding out the cast of characters for this wonderfully droll comedy directed by RCP veteran Joe Musil are Johann Dwornitschek (Bill Hoag) the ever ready, conscientious, and all-knowing footman and Mell (Travis Wilson) the put-upon, nervous wreck of a secretary.

The Play's the Thing will provide an evening (or afternoon) of good times with magnetic characters, panache and extravagance. The Play's the Thing opens March 24 and runs for three weeks. Evening performances are 8pm on March 24, 25, 30, 31 and April 1, 6, 7, 8. Matinee performances are 2pm on March 26 and April 2, 8, 9. Tickets are $15. Reservations are recommended and can be made by calling (951) 686-4030. Riverside Community Players is located at 4026 Fourteenth Street in Riverside.

March 3 – April 16, 2006

The Pirates of Penzance
by Gilbert & Sullivan

The reason Gilbert and Sullivan's light opera, The Pirates of Penzance, is still a staple of the theater after its first performance more than one hundred years ago, should be all you need to know about its enduring popularity.

Overall, Pirates is a delightful musical farce whose unusual plot nevertheless is salted to the popular taste. Only occasionally do Gilbert and Sullivan ask their audience to allow the show's imagination to exceed its reality. Laced with the kind of catchy lyrics and music that only Gilbert and Sullivan could write, there is no reason not to also find humor among its cutthroat male characters. Florenz Ziegfeld, had he been around, most certainly would have kidnapped Pirates' multiple pretty maidens for his Follies.

Tickets on sale for 83rd 'Ramona'

'Ramona,' the Official California State Outdoor Play, begins its 83rd season at the Ramona Bowl Amphitheatre in April as the oldest and longest running outdoor drama in the United States.

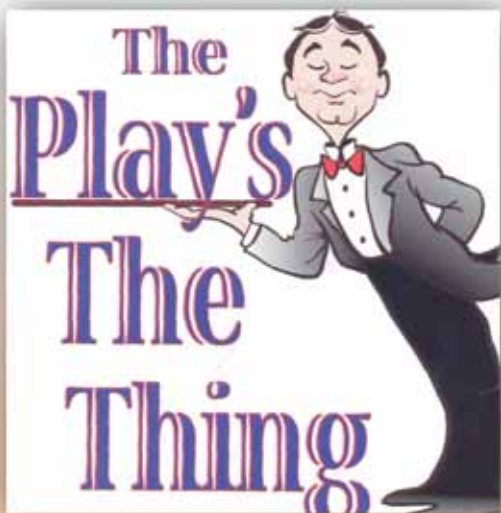

'Ramona' is a journey back to the early days of California in a colorful blend of fiction and history the whole family will enjoy. This classic outdoor drama vividly portrays the conflict between Native Americans and the new settlers of the period. Traditional Native American and Mexican music and dancing, authentic costumes, and lively scenes of horses galloping toward the late afternoon sky add to the spectacle.

'Ramona' has been described as a feast for the senses. This popular show is set against the rugged natural backdrop of the southern Hemet hills, and is presented by a cast of more than 400 local actors, singers, dancers, and horsemen. The natural shape of the amphitheatre enhances the sound quality of the performance, and the beautiful landscaped surroundings create a perfect setting for this colorful and exciting fresh air pageant.

This year's performance will include several important changes. "Of the 14 major roles, 7 will be portrayed by talented new actors who have wanted to play these parts for a long time. Each brings great enthusiasm and energy to the production, and all share a love of California history that can be seen and felt," Dennis Anderson, Artistic Director for the Bowl, said.

Tickets are on sale now for weekend shows that begin on April 22. Performance dates for the 2006 season are April 22, 29, 30, and May 6, 7, and 13, 2006. Gates open at 1pm, with entertainment and pre-show activities starting at 1:30pm, and continuing until show time. 'Ramona' performances begin at 4pm and conclude at 6:30pm.

For tickets or more information call 951-658-3111, or visit www.ramonabowl.com.

by Ferenc Molnar, adapted by P.G. Wodehouse

The arts of acting and playmaking are the targets of this irreverent comedy. While staying at an Italian castle with celebrated playwright Turai and his acting company, Albert, a young and impassioned composer, overhears Dona, Albert's fiancée and the company's prima donna, with another man in her boudoir. Turai tells the devastated Albert that the passionate scene he overheard was just a rehearsal for a new play they are doing. In an effort to keep the company together, Turai then stays up all night writing a play that includes the lines Albert overheard.

CATS Presents 'The Lion In Winter'

The Community Arts Theater Society (CATS) will present James Goldman's award winning classic American play, The Lion In Winter, directed by Steve Gaghagen, for ten shows at the Big Bear Lake Performing Arts Center (PAC).

Based on the historical and fascinating figures of England's King Henry II and Eleanor of Aquitaine, the action of the play takes place in Henry's castle at Chinon, France, in the year 1183. The bickering, conniving, scheming and plotting of their most dysfunctional family is a mega-metaphor for the stress and strife that has plagued families throughout the ages.

Although dramatic, director Gaghagen points out that it defies strict definition. "Although the play is dramatic and revolves around historical figures, it has wonderful elements of comedy and wit. What drew me to this piece is the fact that it can be taken as a drama one night, then seen as a comedy the next, depending on the collective energies, moods and reactions of audience and cast," Gaghagen said.

The film version, released in 1968, was a blockbuster and swept the awards circuit. Both Peter O'Toole as Henry and Katherine Hepburn as Eleanor received Oscar nominations, and the film took home 3 statues for Best Actress, Best Screenplay and Best Score. Hepburn and O'Toole swept all the other major awards that year for Best Actor and Actress, including the Golden Globes, which also awarded the film Best Picture.

Gaghagen's presentation of The Lion In Winter will star Steve Gaghagen and Beth Gardner, and will feature John Wells as Richard the Lionhearted as well as a number of other talented CATS players in supporting roles. Excellent writing provides fertile ground for the creation of tour-de-force performances, and CATS' amazing production team, including Karen Sargent Rachels and Russ Lowery as Co-Producers, Joanne McMaster as Set and Lighting Designer, and Priscilla Anderson as Costume designer, will lend their talents as well.

In keeping with its mission to provide affordable live theater for all, CATS introduces with this production "discount previews" which will open each of its shows this season.

Unleash your inner artist at Sawdust

Deep down inside is an artist in all of us. If you've harbored a secret wish to study glass blowing with a master, learn how to paint with oils or even to discover the joys of crochet, the Sawdust Art Festival's Spring Into Art program has a class for you.

Held over three weekends, March 11-12, 18-19 and 25-26, the beautiful Sawdust Art Festival grounds in Laguna Canyon will host a variety of classes covering various arts and crafts. All the classes are taught by professional artists, many of whom are exhibitors at the famed Sawdust Art Festival.

"The opportunity to teach new adult painters is wonderful," Susan Wade, who has been teaching her very popular Beginners Oil Painting Class for five years at the Festival, said. "I admire their courage and the leap of faith it takes to sign up. I enjoy watching the students discover their talents in a few hours. The Sawdust really is a magical place and Spring Into Art allows people to tap into that magic."

Many students return each year to try a different class. "Students always tell me how the Sawdust grounds have an atmosphere of creativity that allows them to really get inspired," Mollie Bing, program coordinator, said.

Class sizes are limited to ten students, allowing for a personalized experience with lots of one-on-one time. Costs for the 2-day classes range from $100 to $250, including supplies, continental breakfast and gourmet lunch.

The Sawdust Art Festival is located at 935 Laguna Canyon Road in Laguna Beach. Classes meet from 10am until 3pm on Saturdays and from 11am until 4pm on Sundays.

For more information, call 949-497-0520 or go online to www.sawdustartfestival.org.
