Did Someone Say Music???

The Huck Finn Jubilee has a longstanding reputation for providing a musical feast that has drawn thousands of listeners over the past 36 years

From Old School to New School, Huck Finn is jammin'! Get ready this Father's Day weekend, June 14-16, to rock out to every kind of bluegrass music you can imagine. With a lineup that includes nationally recognized award winners along with regional and local talent, the Huck Finn Jubilee continues its longstanding reputation of providing an incredible musical feast during its 37th anniversary. You would think the Jubilee's main stage is the best part of the festival, right? Well think again and prepare to embark on an adventure that you will soon call a family tradition. While this Great American Family festival's main stage lineup was enough to bring home the title of International Bluegrass Music Event of the Year, the "grab your instrument and join in on the party" philosophy really helped bring that award home.

Ricky Skaggs returns once again. Skaggs is a fourteen time Grammy Award-winner and was once credited with "single-handedly saving country music." Skaggs has been rockin' on his mandolin for over 50 years, and this year is no different. His passion for multicultural and genre-bending music inspires and encourages bluegrass lovers to keep the music in the heads and hearts of country audiences everywhere. Check him out on main stage, Sunday, June 16 at 7:30pm.

The musical talent found at Huck Finn is widely renowned. From internationally recognized to locally home grown, these great performers are going to put on a show you won't forget. Better yet, you can interact with these bands on ground level at the Jubilee. Curious about how Mark Cassidy, a local Southern California boy was able to join up with The HillBenders, a band that has a reputation for supercharging crowds across the US, as their banjoist? Ask him yourself at this year's Huck Finn Jubilee.

Della Mae, a sensation in the music world across the country, is an all-woman band that has a commanding, powerful, collective chemistry with vocal, instrumental, and songwriting talent that mines time-honored elements to create music that's unmistakably fresh and contemporary. These five women each bring impressive musical resumes amassed in their previous ventures and are looking forward to meeting you at the Jubilee this Father's Day weekend.

This festival allows you to connect with your favorite Bluegrass artist on an intimate level that goes beyond the autograph booth stage left. To get a complete list of artists who will be waiting at the Jubilee to learn your name and thank you in person for your support of the music they love check out the music page here: www.HuckFinn.com/music.

As if it couldn't get any better, who doesn't want to pick like the best of the best? The Jubilee features 17 bands with impressive talent throughout the weekend. Some of these talented artists will be hosting workshops for you and your instrument to take part in, creating a special relationship you can only receive at the Jubilee and new skills that will stay with you for a lifetime. To top it off, these workshops are free. Workshop schedule updates will be made on the Huck Finn website up until show-time so be sure to visit www.HuckFinn.com frequently to help plan your weekend itinerary. If you want festival updates before everyone else make sure to become a Facebook friend. If you have ever wanted to learn how to "jam" and don't mind paying an affordable registration fee, the Jubilee is offering the opportunity to learn about jammin' from the world's very best. Pete Wernick himself, the originator of Bluegrass Jam Camps, will be instructing a weekend long class. Along with performing worldwide with Hot Rize and others, Pete is dedicated to helping people learn the joys of playing bluegrass. On-site signups will be taken, however, pre-registration is recommended for pre-sale pricing and to guarantee your seat in this highly sought after Wernick Method Class.

Once the sun goes down and you've had your fill of concerts and music lessons, the after hours party begins. This is not the time to be shy, take your instrument, along with your newly found jam skills, and go on a "campground crawl" throughout as many different pickin' parties as possible. Don't play an instrument? No problem, spectators are half of the fun. Grab all your closest pals and take part in this truly unique after hours' experience. This is the perfect time to make new friends, laugh, listen, sing and pick at different campground parties that last well into the night and sometimes, into the wee hours of the morning. You never know, maybe you'll end up jammin' alongside some of the biggest names in Bluegrass.

If playin' isn't your thing, no big deal. The possibilities are endless at the Huck Finn Jubilee. For complete festival details visit www.HuckFinn.com. IER

The Ultimate Thriller: The Michael Jackson Tribute

International Tour to Stop in Riverside at the Fox Performing Arts Center

The Fox Performing Arts Center is “thrilled” to present a stunning tribute recreating the greatest hits and dance moves of the King of Pop, The Ultimate Thriller: “The” Michael Jackson Tribute on Friday, June 28, at 8pm.

June 25 marks the one-year anniversary of Michael’s untimely death and fans across America can now pay homage to the biggest pop star of all time as the International Tour The Ultimate Thriller: “The” Michael Jackson Tribute heads west across the USA. Poised to be the world’s most authentic and exciting Michael Jackson live concert tribute show, The Ultimate Thriller gathered thousands of fans while touring Europe.

The Ultimate Thriller is based on Michael Jackson’s Dangerous and Bad concert tours and features iconic songs like “Black or White,” “Beat It,” and “Billie Jean.” Fronting the show is Fabio Morda’, who has been portraying Michael for more than 10 years.

Morda’ is supported by an expert dance squad choreographed by Jackson’s own beloved dance experts and friends Mic Thompson and LaVelle Smith Jr. Together, with an electrifying band and Jackson’s personal audio consultant Michael Prince, this world-class troupe is working hard to keep Michael Jackson’s legacy alive and live up to his standards of perfection.

LaVelle Smith Jr. decided to begin working with The Ultimate Thriller because “I believe if anyone is going to do anything in tribute to MJ, they should do it on his level, meaning as close to perfect as possible. Everyone in The Ultimate Thriller is extremely talented and hard-working. I love to close my eyes and listen, because it really takes me back. I also love sharing my knowledge with them the way MJ did with me.

For all the artists involved, this tour is about more than nostalgia. It is about carrying on the magic, music and energy Jackson brought to the world. “After touring extensively through Europe,” says Robert Hyman, The Ultimate Thriller show producer, “we played a few shows in the States and the fans went crazy! We even had to add security for the safety of our Michael. Now, we have partnered with Columbia Artists Theatricals to kick off an official U.S. tour that is sure to thrill fans and help keep Michael Jackson’s memory alive.”

Featuring an unbeatable combination of live musicians, an incredible light display, authentic costumes and showstopping choreography, The Ultimate Thriller brings the magic of Michael Jackson’s legacy to life. IER

Pageant Of The Masters Director Rolls Out Red Carpet For 'The Big Picture'

Pageant Celebrates 80 years of living pictures

Diane Challis Davy, director of the Pageant of the Masters, is busily putting the finishing touches on this summer's celebration of art in "living pictures" – tableaux vivants – entitled The Big Picture. In addition to being a tribute to the history of motion pictures and the ways in which masterpieces of art have inspired and informed the movies, this summer's production will also celebrate the 80th anniversary of living pictures being presented at the Festival of Arts in Laguna Beach.

When asked where she found her inspiration for the 2013 theme, Challis Davy laughed and replied, "In the bathtub!" She then went on to explain this was a reference to Busby Berkeley, the legendary Hollywood director famous for his extravagant and brilliantly-choreographed musical numbers in the 1930s. Berkeley, it seems, once told a reporter that his best ideas came to him while in the tub.

Challis Davy's playful comment is offset by the seriousness of her continuing devotion to the daunting logistics of putting on the Pageant. With its two casts of hundreds of volunteers, orchestra, narrator and crew of backstage artists and technicians, the Pageant of the Masters is every bit as complex as a big-budget movie shoot, with the biggest difference being that a movie only has to get a shot right once, while the Pageant hits the stage live every night for nearly two months!

Challis Davy is quick to point out that masterpieces are once again front and center in the 2013 Pageant. "We'll have Vermeer, Gainsborough, Michelangelo, Gerome, Seurat, Norman Rockwell. Designers for both stage and screen look to paintings and sculpture for historical information and inspiration. I thought it would be a new twist for the Pageant to take a look back at the work of the Masters that inspired great works of cinema."

As examples, The Big Picture will showcase how the genius of Michelangelo found expression in "The Agony and the Ecstasy," how Thomas Gainsborough's portraits influenced Stanley Kubrick, and how the works of Jean-Leon Gerome provided inspiration for films by directors like David Lean and Ridley Scott. And "the Master of Suspense," Alfred Hitchcock, will also merit special attention.

But, Challis Davy's enthusiasm for the theme extends beyond film references. "What are movies but a series of still pictures?" she mused. "The Pageant is a series of still (but living) pictures. That seemed like an interesting connection to consider."

Longtime Pageant scriptwriter Dan Duling concurred. "The Pageant's combination of art and theater alters the way we look at art. In a way tableaux vivants were the original 'freeze frames.' And looking at masterpieces through the viewfinder of motion pictures provides fascinating food for thought."

When asked if there were any selections for the upcoming show that she'd always wanted to produce, Challis Davy cited the chance to incorporate memorable music from the movies by Bernard Hermann, Alex North and other composers, and the chance to recreate a fresco by Michelangelo from the Sistine Chapel. On a lighter note, she said she's looking forward to staging "a loving tribute to the Art Institute of Chicago Art, courtesy of director John Hughes and his film Ferris Bueller's Day Off."

Of course, The Big Picture has a secondary focus, the 80th anniversary of "living pictures" at the Festival of Arts. That's certainly worthy of celebration, and Challis Davy intends to revisit this remarkable history by highlighting some of the ways in which the Pageant has benefited from its connections with Hollywood celebrities. And, once again, the show will conclude with its traditional finale, Leonardo da Vinci's "The Last Supper." In 1936, that truly became "the big picture" that put the Pageant on the national map.

Everyone associated with the production understands the Pageant wouldn't be possible without the dedication of its volunteers in the two casts and working behind the scenes. As Challis Davy acknowledges, their dedication and loyalty are the remarkable engines that sustain the Pageant. "I'm lucky to be surrounded by people who love the hard work it takes to produce a very elaborate show," she said. "I get inspiration from the scriptwriter, staff, composers, and from the scores of enthusiastic research volunteers who come up with great suggestions!"

The Pageant of the Masters will perform nightly from Sunday, July 7, through Saturday, Aug. 31. Tickets for The Big Picture can be purchased by calling 1-800-487-3378, or going online at www.PageantTickets.com. Tickets start at $15. A Pageant ticket entitles you to free unlimited admission to the Festival of Arts grounds where you can enjoy original artwork by 140 of Southern Orange County's finest artists, art classes, musical entertainment, special art events, dining at Gina's Alfresco and so much more. IER production. The concept of the dream ballet, which became a staple in future Broadway productions, was created by Agnes DeMille for the original production in 1943. One can't produce Oklahoma! without including the dream ballet, as the plot depends on it. I'm very excited about our presentation of this classic work. Oklahoma! just celebrated its 70th birthday, having opened on Broadway on March 31, 1943, three months after America was plunged into war. With the opening song, 'Oh What A Beautiful Mornin, Oh What A Beautiful Day' and 'All The Sounds Of The Earth Are Like Music,' the musical gave everyone hope, became a smash hit, and helped to get the country through the horrors of the war and the emotions of the times. It ran for five years. Perhaps it's time, once again, for a little comfort musical! Treat yourself! You will leave the theatre feeling wonderful!"

CATS Costume Designer, Priscilla

Anderson, has, once again, outdone herself and created over 200 costumes for the large cast. Along with many artistic touches for the beautiful lighting effects and sets designed by Joanne McMaster, and executed by Bill Ferguson, Karen Bergmann, Melinda Garcia and their set and paint crews, the CATS organization is able to borrow the original Broadway stage "surrey with the fringe on top" for the production. The surrey now resides in the local Big Bear Historical Society Museum and will be transported to the PAC for the show. IER

Riverside Community Players Unveil Upcoming 2013-2014 Season

Productions include a mixture of murder and mystery, romance and comedy, and more

Riverside Community Players announces its 89th consecutive season of bringing quality theatre to the community at affordable prices. The RCP offerings include six plays which comprise the Main Series, a blend of comedy, mystery, drama and musical productions that are sure to entertain. RCP also presents a Family Series of plays for the young and the young-at-heart. The Family Series offers daytime performances for school field trips and weekend shows for families and the general public.

The plays on the 2013-14 season schedule offer a variety of genres and authors.

The first production of the season is The Fox on the Fairway, a comedic tribute from noted playwright Ken Ludwig to the great English farces of the 1930s and 1940s. This play takes audiences on a hilarious romp which pulls the rug out from underneath the stuffy denizens of a private country club. Filled with mistaken identities, slamming doors, and over-the-top romantic shenanigans, it's a charmingly madcap adventure about love, life and man's eternal love affair with . . . golf.

The Fox on the Fairway will play on weekends from September 13th through September 29th, 2013.

The second play presented in the RCP Main Series this year will be the award-winning Intimate Apparel by Lynn Nottage. Winner of the New York Drama Critics' Circle Award, it is the story of Esther, an African-American seamstress, who sews intimate apparel with great skill and discretion while living in a boarding house in 1905 New York City. She has managed to save a goodly sum of money for the high-end beauty parlor she dreams of opening. Her hope of finding love, however, has been more elusive. When she begins a correspondence with a man working on the Panama Canal it seems this dream, too, may soon arrive. Intimate Apparel is a play with adult content and is appropriate for mature audiences only.

IN THE ROUND Riverside Community Players theater in the round gives all audience members a prime view of the stage.

Intimate Apparel will be presented November 15th through December 1st, 2013, on weekends.

The next play to be presented at Riverside Community Players will be A Shot in the Dark, a comedy with a touch of whodunit. Josefa, a parlor maid in the home of one of France's most wealthy and distinguished families, was found unconscious and clutching a gun beside the body of her dead lover, the family chauffeur. Josefa is brought before the examining magistrate on a charge of murder.

Meanwhile powerful political forces push the magistrate to obtain a quick confession and sweep the whole affair under the rug. Upon questioning, however, the magistrate concludes Josefa is innocent. At the risk of his own position, the magistrate pursues other suspects to determine who fired that fatal shot in the dark.

A Shot in the Dark runs January 24th through February 9th, 2014.

The mystery offering this season will be Agatha Christie's Spider's Web, a thriller with a bit of comedy thrown in. Adept at spinning tales of adventure for their bored diplomatic circle, Clarissa finds coping with live drama much more difficult when an actual murder takes place in her own drawing room.

Anxious to clear the matter up before her husband Henry arrives home with a VIP in tow, Clarissa hides the body and attempts to solve the murder only to wind up involved in some hair-raising experiences. But will everything manage to be back to normal by the time Henry gets home or will scandal ensue? And will Clarissa ever figure out who the killer is? This atypical Christie play blends her legendary mystery writing with a light comic tone also seen in her Miss Marple novels.

Spider's Web opens March 28th and plays through April 13th, 2014.

Adapted by Mark Brown, Jules Verne's classic Around the World in 80 Days will also be presented by RCP this season. Fearless adventurer Phileas Fogg has agreed to an outrageous wager that puts his fortune and his life at risk. It is 1872 and with his resourceful servant, Passepartout, Fogg sets out to circle the globe in an unheard-of 80 days. This task leaves Fogg with difficulties enough, but a Scotland Yard Detective named Fix is convinced that Fogg is the gentleman bandit who recently robbed an English bank and dogs Fogg's every step. As they traverse seven continents, encounter stampeding elephants and typhoons, danger, romance and surprises abound in this whirlwind of a story. A rollicking, light-hearted adventure, Around the World in 80 Days is performed by only six actors, most of them playing many different parts.

You can join the adventure when Around the World in 80 Days plays from May 16th to June 1st, 2014.

The 2013-14 RCP season finishes with the musical romantic comedy She Loves Me, with book by Joe Masteroff, music by Jerry Bock and lyrics by Sheldon Harnick. The story of the play involves Greg and Amalia, two feuding clerks in a European parfumerie during the 1930s, each of whom secretly find solace in their romantic pen pals. Little do they know that their respective correspondents are none other than each other. Funny, intelligent, honest and sentimental, this romantic comedy has an endearing innocence with a touch of old world elegance and nostalgia.

She Loves Me will be performed from July 11th through the 27th, 2014.

All performances of these plays will be at the Riverside Community Players theatre at 4026 14th St. In Riverside. Season tickets offer a significant savings to subscribers; three-play sampler subscriptions are also available. Season tickets for the Family Series are also available. For further information on auditions, season tickets, field trips or questions on any other matter, the RCP Administrative Office can be contacted at (951) 369-1200. Children under the age of five are not admitted.

The Family Series at Riverside Community Players this season kicks off with Pinocchio by Carlo Collodi. This is the timeless story of the wooden puppet carved by Gepetto who must earn the right to fulfill his longing to become a real boy. His quest leads him to encounters with several characters of questionable repute. On one of his dangerous adventures, he finds himself inside of a huge whale where he is reunited with Gepetto. If Pinocchio's escape plan succeeds, will they be rescued and will the Blue Fairy finally help him attain his dream?

Pinocchio will be presented to the public on October 11th through the 13th, 2013. Contact the RCP office for information on school field trip performances.

At Christmas time RCP will again present their traditional performances of Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol. This was Charles Dickens' own favorite story which is about the transformation of the mean and miserly Ebenezer Scrooge. Through the ghostly visitations from his old partner Jacob Marley and those of the Spirits of Christmas Past, Present and Yet to Come, Scrooge comes to see the true happiness and pleasure that can be derived from giving and sharing. Not just for the Christmas holidays, but sentiments for any time and every one.

A Christmas Carol plays for the public on December 13th through the 15th, 2013. Contact the RCP office for information on school field trip performances.

The Family Series concludes with the dramatization of Rudyard Kipling's The Jungle Book. Deep in a jungle in India in the middle of the 19th century, a boy, Mowgli, is raised by wolves, befriended by Bagheera (a panther) and Baloo (a great bear) and threatened by Shere Kahn (the evil tiger). But this play also includes the intriguing story of a young Rudyard Kipling, who is sent away from his home in Bombay to a British boarding school. Here he encounters his own adventures of a different type, highlighting the worth of friendship and loyalty through excitement and humor.

The playing dates for The Jungle Book are February 21st through the 23rd for the general public. Contact the RCP office for information on school field trip performances.

Season tickets for the Family Series are also available; contact the RCP office. IER

City of Rancho Cucamonga's MainStreet Theatre Company Receives National Endowment for the Arts Grant

National Endowment for the Arts (NEA) Acting Chairman Joan Shigekawa recently announced that the City of Rancho Cucamonga/MainStreet Theatre Company is one of 817 organizations nationwide to receive an NEA Art Works grant. This grant is one of 817 NEA Art Works grants totaling $26.3 million in funding nationwide. MainStreet Theatre Company is recommended for a $10,000 grant to support the world premiere of a brand new adaptation of Aesop's Fables by Los Angeles playwright Luis Alfaro.

Aesop in Rancho Cucamonga is a contemporary retelling of Aesop's Fables, set in Southern California, and using the history of the area as a starting point. Through a grant from The James Irvine Foundation, MainStreet was able to commission Mr. Alfaro to create this piece specifically for the residents of Rancho Cucamonga.

"We are thrilled to be producing this world premiere with the support of the NEA," says MainStreet Producer Mireya ("Murry") Hepner. "The work will consist of a reinterpretation of several of the fables which we hope will speak to the entire community, but especially to our Latino and Native American audiences. We have been meeting with several community leaders to get an overview of Rancho Cucamonga's history, and Luis will weave several stories together into an hour-long production."

The show will have a cast of 6-8 actors, and may include puppets. The MainStreet Theatre Company plans to produce Aesop in Rancho Cucamonga in October of 2013 as the first production of its 2013/2014 season. The show will run for three weeks at the City's 536-seat Lewis Family Playhouse, with weekday performances for school groups and weekend performances for family audiences, for a total of 21 performances.

Acting Chairman Shigekawa said, "The National Endowment for the Arts is proud to support these exciting and diverse arts projects that will take place throughout the United States. Whether it is through a focus on education, engagement, or innovation, these projects all contribute to vibrant communities and memorable opportunities for the public to engage with the arts."

"We recently spent time in Washington D.C. with representatives from NEA, and they expressed how impressed they were with our staff and the quality programming offered by the MainStreet Theatre Company," shared Mayor L. Dennis Michael. "The entire City Council could not be more delighted to have our own resident theatre company develop this world premiere play for children of our community; it is just wonderful for the City to get this recognition from the National Endowment of the Arts."

An intimate, 536-seat venue, the Lewis Family Playhouse is the crown jewel of the three-acre, 89,000-square foot Victoria Gardens Cultural Center. The complex is located off the I-15 at Foothill Boulevard, as a major anchor of Victoria Gardens. The Box Office is open Monday through Friday from noon to 6pm and Saturdays from 10am to 6pm, with free parking available.

Single tickets for the 2013/2014 season will go on sale on June 6. For additional information or to purchase tickets online, visit www.lewisfamilyplayhouse.com or call the Lewis Family Playhouse Box Office at (909) 477-2752 or (877) 858-8422. IER

The Big Bear Alpine Zoo, A Sanctuary For Mountain Critters

Nestled in beautiful Big Bear Lake is the Big Bear Alpine Zoo, featuring more than 190 animals representing 80 species. Its original mission was to heal injured mountain animals, and it continues that mission today, healing, rehabilitating, and protecting animals that need help.

Every day at noon there is an animal presentation and every day during the summer, except for Wednesdays, one of the keepers will delight and educate you on the 3pm feeding tour.

The Friends of the Big Bear Alpine Zoo invite all photographers to enter their 7th Annual Photography Contest. There will be a "Special Photo Op Day" on Saturday, June 15, from 10am to 4pm. Regular zoo admission will apply to all photographers.

Throughout the day animals will be brought out to the presentation green for special photo opportunities. If you cannot attend the photo op day, you can still participate as long as your photos are taken at the Big Bear Alpine Zoo between January 1, and August 1, 2013.

For event details, contest rules and registration forms, visit www.friendsofthebigbearalpinezoo.org/calendar/ and click on "Photography Contest."

A Mission To Help

In 1959 a wildfire swept across the Big Bear Mountains and in its aftermath a number of injured and orphaned forest creatures were found. The original animals brought in were an orphaned baby black bear and two bobcats.

Word spread and before long more animals came that were in need of care. Sometimes that care was a bit of rehabilitation ending with their release back to the wild. For others, the Big Bear Alpine Zoo (formerly known as the Moonridge Animal Park) became their "home for life." It has become a sanctuary for injured and orphaned critters.

The zoo is operated by the County of San Bernardino, Big Bear Valley Recreation and Park District. Their 50-year lease has expired and plans are underway to try to relocate the zoo to another, larger Big Bear site.

A HELPING HAND The Big Bear Alpine Zoo rehabilitates animals in need of care and protection.

Every animal is accessed by Debbie Richardson, the curator, and her staff of zookeepers. Every effort is made to rehabilitate each animal with the intent of returning it to the wild. The ones they keep are so impacted by their situation that they could never make it if returned to the wild.

Alaska, a bald eagle, came from Seattle's Woodland Park Zoo in 1991. He was a gunshot victim and is missing most of his right wing.

Aurora, an Arctic Fox, arrived in 2012. She was stranded on a rooftop in Beverly Hills and it took 3 days for Animal Control to capture her. Since Arctic Foxes are considered a restricted species by Fish and Game and cannot be released in California she was sent to the zoo. IER

Get ready for a summer concert that will feature two of the most recognizable and iconic bands ever. On Saturday, July 6, you will have a chance to see both KC and the Sunshine Band and Village People perform during one concert inside the Special Events Center at Fantasy Springs Resort Casino.

KC and the Sunshine Band are as wildly popular today as they were when they first danced into the music scene 40 years ago. Harry Wayne Casey, KC for short, developed a unique fusion of R&B and funk with a hint of Latin percussion groove creating an impressive string of hits like "Get Down Tonight," "That's the Way (I Like It)" and "Shake Your Booty." The group has 9 Grammy nominations, three Grammy Awards, an American Music Award and has sold more than 100 million records.

KC and The Sunshine Band was one of the most progressive bands in the 70's and is credited with changing the sound of modern pop music. They became the first act to score four #1 pop singles in one 12-month period since the Beatles in 1964. Three of those singles crossed over to become #1 R&B, as well. Their songs have stood the test of time and you can ask any one of the thousands of fans who spend the entire concert on their feet, dancing and shaking their booty. San Bernardino Symphony welcomes Maestro Frank Fetta as Music Director and Conductor

New season is introduced

The San Bernardino Symphony has announced its 2013-14 season and the official addition of Maestro Frank Fetta as its Music Director and Conductor.

“The new season is extraordinary, but what is even more special is that Frank has accepted the position,” said Symphony President Mary Schnepf. “We have always had a wonderful working relationship with Frank and I think he is a wonderful fit for the Symphony. His enthusiasm and the way he relates to audiences are inspiring. He is just a joy to work with.”

Incoming President Judith Valles agrees.

“I’m very excited Frank has officially signed on,” she said, adding, “He is just what the community needs.”

A delighted Maestro Fetta shared his thoughts about the appointment. “I am thrilled to be an official member of the team and am looking forward to the coming year,” he said.

About his uncommonly interactive style, the new Maestro was straightforward. “I enjoy talking with people about the art that I love and I’d like them to share the sense of enthusiasm that I feel to propel us all forward. There are certain works that I love to do and I will be looking for opportunities to bring them back or to introduce them to the community, especially those pieces that have been absent from our repertoire for a while. I want what we do to reflect the community in a local, cultural sense, but also in a broader sense that will make San Bernardino one of the most highly desirable concert venues in California.”

The season will bring a wide variety of musical offerings as it commences on Sept. 28 with Beyond Gravity where concert goers will experience Holst’s enduring and imaginative The Planets and space age selections from John Williams’ award-winning Star Wars and E.T. scores.

November 9, the Symphony will present Bold Voyage, celebrating Sibelius’ vividly movies, in a sports arena or at one of the 100-plus concerts KC and the Sunshine Band plays every year. It is always fun and truly makes all who hear it happy enough to dance!

On July 6, the same day as the Fantasy Springs concert, the Palm Springs Walk of Stars will honor Harry Wayne Casey of KC & The Sunshine Band with a star dedication ceremony.

Beginning their 36th year as the “kings of disco”, the one-of-a-kind Village People is synonymous with dance music. These six talented men combine energetic choreography with outrageous fun and lots of bumping and grinding, singing and dancing, and provide great entertainment for all.

Selling more than 100 million recordings, Village People were an instant phenomenon in the ‘70s and ‘80s with hits “San Francisco/In Hollywood,” “Macho Man,” “YMCA,” “In the Navy,” “Go West” and more. The group has won many worldwide awards including the American Music Award-Favorite Musical Group 1979, AGVA’s Georgie Award, West Germany’s Gold Lion Award for music excellence and Brazil’s 1981 Award for Best Act. In September 2008, Village People received a “Star” on the Hollywood Walk of Fame – between Betty Grable and Liberace.

Village People are Ray Simpson (Cop and lead singer), Alexander Briley (G.I./Military), Felipe Rose (Native American Indian), David Hodo (Construction Worker), Jeff Olson (Cowboy) and Eric Anzalone (Biker).

Tickets for the 8pm KC and the Sunshine Band and Village People performance are $69, $49, $39 and are available at the Fantasy Springs Box Office, via telephone (800) 827-2946 or online at www.FantasySpringsResort.com. IER

Lake Gregory Welcomes Back Movies In The Park

Movies in the Park at Lake Gregory Regional Park will begin its fourth season with special thanks to Rim of the World Parks and Recreation for their involvement with the events. Movies will play on various Friday evenings through August 23.

The popular movie night at Lake Gregory Regional Park's summer movie schedule includes a diverse list of titles, including a few new releases like The Odd Life of Timothy Green and Wreck It Ralph to oldies but goodies like Willy Wonka & the Chocolate Factory and Casablanca.

"We are excited about the fourth year of Movies in the Park," said Kristie Stevens, Event Coordinator for San Bernardino County Regional Parks Department. "We love seeing the families cuddled together under their blankets, watching a movie and enjoying their time in the great outdoors."

Moviegoers are encouraged to bring a blanket or their favorite low back chair and enjoy an evening under the stars. Pack a picnic dinner or enjoy items from the snack shack.

Movies will begin at 8:30pm. The Rim of the World ball fields will open one hour prior to the start of the show, so come down early and participate in a trivia game where you can win fabulous prizes. The movies are $4 per person and 2 years old and under are free. They ask that you leave the pets at home for this outing.

Located in the community of Crestline, Lake Gregory Regional Park is tucked in the cool cedar and pine forest of the San Bernardino Mountains. For more information call (909) 387-2461 or visit their website at www.sbcounty.gov/parks. IER triumphant Symphony No. 5 and passionate Russian soloist Ruslan Biryukov's interpretation of Dvorak's magnificent Cello Concerto.

At the annual Family Concert and Family Music Fair, scheduled for January 13, 2014, audiences of all ages will enjoy the Symphony's imaginative rendition of Prokofiev's enchanting tale of Peter and the Wolf, narrated by former San Bernardino Mayor and incoming Symphony Board President, Judith Valles.

In addition, the Symphony will perform Sinfonia India by noted Mexican composer Carlos Chavez, Copland's ever-popular Billy the Kid, and Manuel de Falla's rhythmic and charismatic Fire Dance.

On March 9, the Symphony will present Sax & Strings which will include Barber's ever-popular Adagio for Strings, Bach's Brandenburg Concerto No. 3, Mozart's timeless Eine kleine Nachtmusik, and the intriguing first time ever presentation of Glazunov's Concerto for Saxophone featuring soloist Matthew Ennis.

The May 3 finale will conclude an outstanding season with MasterWorks, including Tchaikovsky's inspired Symphony No. 5 and Rachmaninoff's romantically virtuosic Piano Concerto No. 3 featuring audience favorite, the renowned pianist Norman Krieger.

In addition to the five major concerts and the popular pre-concert lectures and post-concert afterglow receptions, the San Bernardino Symphony will continue to extend its musical reach outside its home venue, the California Theatre of the Performing Arts.

Last season, the Symphony performed in Fontana and Lake Arrowhead, and this spring it will be performing a special concert for the Loma Linda University Health community. In addition, the Symphony will hold Musical events in private homes to highlight the talents of visiting performers, coordinate with the San Bernardino Symphony Guild for musical fundraising events such as Bach to Boots, and continue its community outreach efforts through both the Music in the Schools and Musicians in the Schools Programs which benefit thousands of San Bernardino City School District children each year.

To purchase a five-concert season subscription, starting at $70 per person, or learn additional information about the San Bernardino Symphony and its upcoming programs, call the San Bernardino Symphony office at (909) 381-5388 or visit the Symphony's website at www.sanbernardinosymphony.org. IER

NIGHT

The night is cold, and I'm alone on the streets. I seek shelter, maybe a nearby bush or a box, anything I can find. My story is that once I was loved; I had a home, safe in your arms. Why you walked away, leaving me lonely, I'll never know. Now my love is open to anyone who will reach out to me. Just say, "Here, Kitty" and I will come running.
