American Indian Art in Riverside

Americana Indian Shows brings authentic Native American arts to the public

With more than 5,000 authentic items for sale, the Anderson's Americana Indian Show is perhaps the largest event of its kind to be found in the Inland Empire. For purveyors of traditional, Native American jewelry and arts, the Riverside show can't be beat.

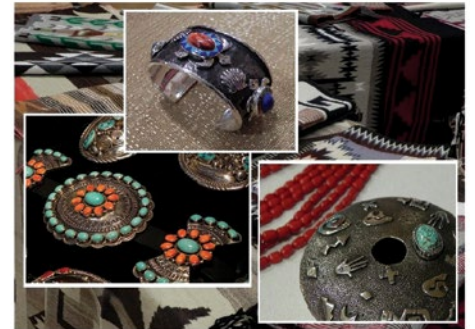

Coming to the Elks Lodge in Riverside on Sept 27 - Sept 29, the show puts on display for sale everything from turquoise jewelry to Navajo rugs.

Americana Indian Shows had its beginning in 1947 when founder Lee Anderson (a fifth generation Arizonan) attended school on the Navajo reservation and worked after school and weekends for his uncle at the family's Sanders, Arizona trading post. The Andersons collected American Indian art such as Navajo rugs, pottery, baskets, jewelry and other Indian and western items. This cultivated a passion and respect for Native American art and culture that inspired Lee to pursue his dream of bringing Indian art to the public. In 1966 Lee and his brothers, Wayne and Arvid, began selling Navajo weavings on a small scale at local flea markets and events in Tucson, while Lee was stationed at Fort Huachuca, Arizona. As sales grew, the brothers expanded inventory to include jewelry and other Indian arts; with their success came the founding of Americana Indian shows in 1968.

Upon retirement from the Pentagon in 1974, Lee moved his family from Virginia back to Arizona to pursue the business full time with his brothers. Two galleries were opened in 1974, and at the same time road shows continued to take art and jewelry to customers across the country. Eventually the galleries were closed so Lee and his brothers could focus exclusively on conducting shows and sales nationwide.

Today that tradition continues with the next generation of Andersons. The shows – more than 25 a year around the country – feature an inventory of thousands of Native American made items from Arizona and New Mexico, including turquoise jewelry, kachinas, paintings, baskets, sand paintings, pottery, carvings, Navajo rugs and more. Visitors can shop for works created by top Native American artists from the Navajo, Hopi, Zuni, Santo Domingo, Acoma, Santa Clara, Jemez and more.

Admission is free to the show. The Elks lodge is located at 6166 Brockton Ave, in Riverside. For more information, call (928) 606-2972, or go online to www.americana.net.

43rd Annual Big Bear Lake Oktoberfest Adds Additional Days & Expands Entertainment

Weekends, Sept. 14 through Oct. 26

The Big Bear Lake Oktoberfest celebrates 43 years of German style family fun and good times this year. Rated Southern California's #1 Oktoberfest, this Fall's festival offers more entertainment with expanded Bier Gartens. Guests this year will also have the opportunity to enjoy two additional evenings of Oktoberfest charm.

New this year, the Spaten Bier Garten will offer live entertainment every Saturday evening on the Spaten Stage, additional seating and a full line-up of Spaten beer. Bands performing include local bands such as the Skeleton Key and top California bands such as the Doo Wah Riders.

Main stage entertainment line-up will once again feature the Express, Southern California's premier German band and returning, by popular demand, the NEW Mainfloesser Band from Germany. The NEW Mainfloesser performed at the Big Bear Lake Oktoberfest in 2011 to a roaring success. A variety of dance groups make return appearances including the Cripple Creek Cloggers, Danube Swabain Dancers and, a guest favorite, Big Bear's own Polka Tots.

Oktoberfest gets "unplugged" on two additional Friday nights this year. Fans will be treated to an inside look into the history and early beginnings of Oktoberfest while enjoying a night of top German food and beers. The five-course German dinner will be paired with a variety of German beers and spirits. Entertainment includes story telling by the Uber-Burgermeister and founder of Oktoberfest, Hans Bandows, as well as several of Oktoberfest's key personalities. Oktoberfest Unplugged packages include a five course German pairing dinner, entertainment, a commemorative one-liter stein and an intimate evening of fun. As an added bonus, Saturday Oktoberfest event admission will also be included.

One of the country's most authentic Oktoberfest celebrations, Big Bear's Oktoberfest offers non-stop entertainment, dancing and zany German antics exclusive to Big Bear's festival for seven weekends, Sept. 14 through Oct. 26. Other Oktoberfest festivities include carnival games, bounce houses, Samson - the mechanical bull, and the Buden Strasse (Ave. of the Booths) which provides a variety of arts and crafts vendors. Festival-goers can participate in a variety of free contests including Beer Stein Holding, Log Sawing, Pretzel Eating, the Safe Slam (non-alcoholic beer) beer drinking contest and our own version of Beer Pong.

The annual Fall celebration kicks off with America's Heroes weekend on Saturday, Sept. 14 offering free admission for all past and present military and their immediate families, as well as firefighters and law enforcement. Opening festivities include a special tribute to all those that put their lives on the line protecting America's freedoms. The festival closes on Saturday, Oct. 26 with the annual costume contests for both adults and children.

The Big Bear Lake Oktoberfest provides an excuse to enjoy a weekend away from the stress and obligations of everyday life in a beautiful alpine setting. The festival takes place high in the San Bernardino mountains. Free Festival Highlights Agricultural Heritage

The Historic Estudillo Mansion is home of the 3rd annual City of San Jacinto Agricultural Festival. The festival is a tribute to the agricultural history of the San Jacinto Valley. This festival was designed to be a family fun event with no admission charge with the goal of promoting "Small Town Americana." The festival will take place on Sept. 20-22.

Highlights of this year's festival include: Black Smithing Competition, Hay Competition, Pony and Carriage Rides, a Carnival, Friesian Horse Demonstration, Tours of the Estudillo Mansion, the Agri Empire Potato Packing shed and the San Jacinto Mansion.

An integral part The Agricultural Festival is a $5,000 Scholarship, sponsored by the Larry Minor Family of Agri Empire. This scholarship is open to all senior ladies graduating in the Spring of 2014.

No festival would be complete without music and entertainment. The Agricultural Festival has entertainment all day and night featuring local dance groups, musicians, cowboy gun fight and headliner concerts each day. Friday night begins at 6:30pm: Mark Huston and the Workin Men, Saturday night begins at 7pm: Lynrd Sknyrd and Frynds and Sunday begins at 4pm as they celebrate the Hispanic Culture: Alejandro Vazquez Guerro Musical.

If your favorite part of a festival is the food and sewing competitions, then you won't be disappointed when you visit the History Tent. Along with pictures and newspaper stories of various agricultural farmers and ranchers, they offer a competition for best jams, jellies, honey, salsa, pie, cupcakes, sewing items and more.

Every festival needs a place for shopping and the Agricultural Festival has professional vendors, non profits, Kiddie Land and great food vendors featuring, Mexican Food, Turkey Legs, Funnel Cake, Kettle Corn, Shaved Ice, Pretzels, Churros, Rootbeer Wagon, Hamburgers and Hotdogs and more. Come Hungry!

Completing the festival this year is the Antique Tractor Show; tour the grounds and see up close some of the tractors that have contributed to the Agricultural Industry.

Fairplex Oktoberfest Serves German Food & Fun

GOOD TIMES Oktoberfest is all about good times with friends ... and German beer!

Celebrate Bavarian beer and brats without a passport as Fairplex brings Oktoberfest to Southern California for three weekends in October. Guests can party like a German rock star with Oktoberfest's entertainment, including several tribute bands as well as traditional music and games.

The fun that began in Sept. with the L.A. County Fair continues German-style as the Oktoberfest festival takes place over a 16-day period – Oct. 10-13, 17-20 and 24-27 – during which guests can enjoy over 1.5 million gallons of beer, partake in a variety of German food and celebrate the Bavarian culture.

Traditional Oktoberfest and wheat beers will flow like the first kegs tapped in the late 1800s. Domestic brews and specialty cocktails will also be poured, for all tastes and palates to cheer Prost!

Come for the beer, stay for the food. Fairplex's Oktoberfest cuisine would make Mad King Ludwig mad all over again – with hunger. From a variety of Bratwursts with Sauerkraut to Schweinehaxe (crispy hock ham) to Schmolzkuchen (warm brown sugar and cinnamon donut holes), German food in America has never tasted so good.

While the traditional sounds of oom pa pa music bring a cultural flair, Fairplex's Oktoberfest brings an international rockin' flavor with popular tribute bands making it truly a Rocktoberfest.

Oktoberfest rocks for ages 21 and over Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays from 6pm to midnight, and noon to 6pm on Sundays. Sundays are fun for all ages. Tickets are just $5. Visit oktoberfestatfairplex.com for more information and to purchase tickets. IER

Making Iced Tea

A treat for your taste buds by DragonMarsh

PREPARATION Use 1 oz of loose tea to 1 gallon of water. Remember your tea is only as good as your tea and water so use filtered water, not tap water! Why waste good tea with bad water!

COOL INFUSED: Cold brewed tea is done in the refrigerator, it also helps reduce the risk related to sun brewed tea that can harbor bacteria since it is warm, but not hot enough to kill any growing bacteria. Place loose tea in sanitized container (muslin bags are great) then pour water over tea. Place in refrigerator for 10-16 hours or overnight. Remove the tea bag/tea ball and drink within 72 hours. If your ice tea is getting cloudy it is going bad. If it is growing mold or fuzzy bits, it is definitely bad ... throw it out in the garden or compost pile! For added flavor, add slices of citrus or strawberries. Try less or more tea for different tastes.

HOT INFUSED: Make your hot tea as you would normally. Use twice as many tea leaves, since the addition of ice cubes to the hot brew will dilute the taste considerably. Allow tea to cool before refrigerating. Don't pour hot tea in plastic "lemonade/tea" dispensers. The hot tea will warp the container into a melted mess, trust me. Another option is to make ice cubes from tea so they will not dilute the drink.

Try different teas, hot and cold, for different flavors. Many people like the flavor of a green tea chilled who would not drink it hot. Try adding lemon, agave or honey. Life is too short to drink inferior tea! Treat your taste buds today!

FOR QUALITY TEA STOP IN DRAGONMARSH IN DOWNTOWN RIVERSIDE OR ON THE WEB AT WWW.DRAGONMARSH.COM. ASK WHEN THE NEXT TASTY TEA TOUR IS SCHEDULED TO TRY MANY DIFFERENT TEAS AND FIND A NEW FAVORITE!

Prior to the debut of her first album, the popularity of Caillat's MySpace profile led her to become the number-one unsigned singer in her genre for four consecutive months. Colbie's debut album, Coco, was released in 2007. Her debut single “Bubbly” peaked at number five on the US Billboard Hot 100 and number two on the Pop 100. The single “Bubbly” caught a generation’s imagination and has become one of the best-selling digital tracks of all time. Billboard took note by naming Caillat its Breakthrough Artist of the Year.

Fittingly, Caillat’s second album, Breakthrough, was released in August 2009 and broke at No. 1 and was honored with two Grammy nominations. Caillat was recognized as BMI’s songwriter of the year and in December 2010, she performed at the Nobel Peace Prize Concert in Oslo, Norway.

Caillat’s third album, All of You, was released on July 6, 2011. The first single, “I Do” was released in February. The second single, “Brighter Than the Sun”, was released in June.

“All of You is a more advanced version of me,” Colbie explains. “I like to keep my music acoustic, sunny and optimistic. These songs still have the bright feeling and California vibe I love. But they’re also songs that I write from my experiences.”

boundary-pushing bluegrass banjoist and composer. His fellow Texas native Edie Brickell initially burst onto the national scene in the late 1980s fronting the New Bohemians, and has since carved out an iconoclastic solo career that’s solidified her reputation as a uniquely compelling singer and a songwriter of rare insight.

The Friday Night Concert will be video taped at the Fox Performing Arts Center for future broadcast on the PBS “Great Performances Series.”

'Fox on the Fairway' Farce At Players

Audiences and members of Riverside Community Players are no strangers to farces by Ken Ludwig, as the theater has produced the playwright's Moon Over Buffalo and Lend Me a Tenor in recent years. Ludwig graces RCP's stage again with The Fox on the Fairway.

In contrast to the previous Ludwig outings – both set in theatrical worlds – The Fox on the Fairway is a hilarious, sports-themed frolic about the managers of two rival country clubs who engage in all manner of lying and cheating to win a golf tournament championship.

Ludwig wrote the comedy in tribute to the popular English farces of the late 19th and early 20th centuries, attempting to capture those earlier plays' "wildly funny stories and characters," and their "firm sense of innocence," as the author explains in his foreword to The Fox on the Fairway.

The Riverside Community Players' production stars John Shannon as Quail Valley Country Club manager Henry Bingham and Phillip Gabriel as his Crouching Squirrel Country Club counterpart, Dickie Bell. Caught in the middle of their bitter rivalry are bungling assistant Justin Hicks, played by Michael Detrow, and his lovely new fiancée Louise Heinbedder, played by Caitlin Carnes.

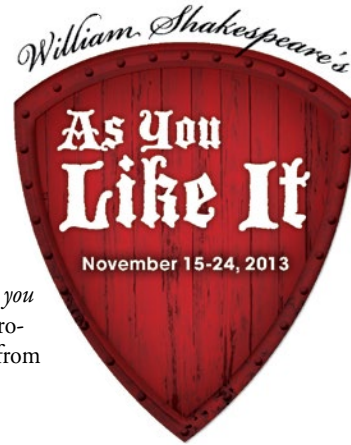

Karen Lancaster portrays Pamela Peabody, the beautiful Quail Valley board member who maintains a drink in her hand and a secret in her heart. Rounding out the cast is Laura Richie as Bingham's domineering wife, Muriel.

"These cast members are very talented," noted director Jody Duncan, "and they did something quite extraordinary: at my request, they learned their lines before we started rehearsals. There is a lot of physical comedy in this show, and I didn't want them holding scripts the first two weeks of rehearsals. I wanted their hands free so they could climb on furniture, jump in each others' arms, throw valuable pieces of art around – all of which they do in this very fast-paced, high-energy show! It was a big thing to ask of them, but they delivered."

TICKETS

The Fox on the Fairway opens Sept. 13 and runs through Sept. 29 at the Riverside Community Players, 4026 14th Street in Riverside. Reservations can be made by calling the box office at (951) 686-4030 starting Sept. 9. Season tickets for the 89th season of RCP plays can still be purchased by calling the box office any time. CSUSB Theatre Announces Its 2013-2014 Season Of Plays

University Theatre Season to Explore the Line Between Image and Reality

The Cal State San Bernardino Department of Theatre Arts has announced its thrilling new season – a season where what you see, isn't necessarily what you get.

A season of "Image Versus Reality" will take theatre goers on a journey from the dark forest of Arden, to the revolutionary streets of France. The 2013-2014 season will make you laugh, cry, blush, even stand up and cheer!

AS YOU LIKE IT

The curtain rises on CSUSB's 2013-2014 season on Nov. 15 with a classic tale. In William Shakespeare's "As You Like It", Rosalind and Orlando are banished from court, into the wilds of the forest Arden. Disguised as a man, Rosalind instructs Orlando in the ways to woo a woman's heart, while secretly pining for his affections in this comedy of love, song, poetry, and longing frustration. "As You Like It" will run through Nov. 24.

JACKIE ROBINSON: AN AMERICAN DREAM

In January, the university will present an original play by faculty member Carol Damgen: "Jackie Robinson: An American Dream". In 1947 Jack Roosevelt Robinson broke the barriers of discrimination to become the first African American player in Major League Baseball. Running from Jan. 23-26, this original, family-friendly play explores the life of the American legend through the wide, excited eyes of a young bat boy, as Jackie struggles with the attention of a nation divided.

INVISIBLE

In March, Theatre Arts Department Chair Kathryn Ervin unveils "Invisible". What happens when one person becomes invisible due to their station in life and another chooses to be? They are all around us, every day; do you see them? This exploration of the classic novels by H.G. Wells and Ralph Ellison focuses on the struggles of two such people in a modern, urban setting. With a story told through music, movement, and poetry, "Invisible" dares to ask the question: What do you see? This all-ages production will show from March 7-16.

THE BALCONY

The CSUSB main stage season comes to a close with Jean Genet's classic, "The Balcony". The Grand Balcony is a lavish French brothel, where powerful men play out their wildest fantasies. But just outside its doors a violent revolution rages, threatening the lives of everyone inside. As the line between fantasy and reality obscures, the meaning of real power becomes clearer. Running from May 30-June 8, this production contains material that may not be suitable for younger audiences.

Individual and season tickets can be purchased from the CSUSB Theatre Arts Box Office, by phone at (909) 537-5884, or online at theatre.csusb.edu. Subscriptions range from $20 to $50, and individual tickets start at just $6. Performances take place in the Ronald E. Barnes Theatre on the CSUSB campus. Parking at CSUSB is $5, but is available for free with a 2013-2014 Theatre Arts season subscription. IER

San Bernardino Symphony takes you Beyond Gravity

The San Bernardino Symphony will present the first concert of its 2013-14 season with Beyond Gravity, a galactic premier that will lift your spirits into the cosmos.

On Sept. 28 at 7:30pm, concert goers will experience Gustav Holst's enduring and imaginative The Planets and space age selections from John Williams' award-winning Star Wars and E.T. scores.

"We were guided by thematic material and the desire to combine two genres of music," said Symphony Music Director and Conductor Frank Fetta, adding with levity, "Holst's The Planets does not actually include reference to the Earth so we're including our planet by doing Williams' ET piece here on earth."

The Planets, a seven-movement orchestral suite, was written to convey ideas and emotions associated with the influence of the planets on the psyche. Colorful and imaginative, it was originally scored as a piano duet. But Holst's later orchestral composition, which calls to mind influences of Russian Romantics such as Nikolai Rimsky-Korsakov and Alexander Glazunov, conjures out-of-this-world imagery through creative use of brass and woodwind instruments,

San Bernardino Symphony Music Director and Conductor Frank Fetta.

45th Annual Apple Butter Arts & Crafts Festival In Redlands

Since its beginning in 1968, apple butter produced by members of the congregation has been at the center of the annual Apple Butter Arts and Crafts Festival at First Lutheran Church (ELCA), at 1207 W. Cypress Ave. in Redlands. While the home-made apple butter, which will be on sale in pint, half-pint and quarter-pint jars at the 45th annual event on Saturday, Oct. 5, is the main attraction, visitors can also find 25 to 35 vendor booths featuring locally-produced arts and crafts, a bake sale, used book sale, pet adoption booth, opportunity drawings, a snack bar, and a supervised bounce house for children.

Festival hours are 9am to 2pm.

and myriad forms of percussion. Audiences should even anticipate the ethereal sonorities of tubular bells, the harp, and ethereal strings and, as a special addition, the all-female choir composed of CSUSB current vocal students and alumni will lend their voices to the Neptune movement.

American composer, conductor, and pianist John Williams' Star Wars selections will draw from the original and prequel trilogies utilizing an eclectic variety of musical styles, many culled from the Late Romantic idiom of Richard Strauss and his contemporaries. With several obvious nods to Holst in the original scores, Williams incorporated more strains of modernist orchestral writing with each progressive score thought to involve director George Lucas' desire to ground the otherwise strange and fantastic setting in well-known, audience-accessible music. Audiences will be transported to Tatooine and beyond through the simple and direct emotional appeal of this music.

Williams' E.T. Adventures on Earth rounds out this singularly space age evening with selections from the sweeping, emotionally uplifting soundtrack of Steven Spielberg's most beloved family film. Utilizing the Grammy-winning score, full of both mischief and darkness, will evoke images of the life-changing adventures of Elliot, Gertie, and their extraterrestrial friend in what Gary Arnold of The Washington Post called: "essentially a spiritual autobiography." Concert-goers may even hear a bit of Yoda's Theme from The Empire Strikes Back in movements from The Magic of Halloween. The multitude of themes for E.T. merge to form a spectacular accompaniment for the 1982 film

In the past it has taken over 20 cases of apples and 200 pounds of sugar along with nine jars of cinnamon to create the 70 gallons of apple butter which is cooked on site by church volunteers in wood-fired kettles, according to Mac and Donna Barnes, coordinators of the event.

Proceeds benefit First Lutheran ministries. Admission is free. Ample parking is available in the lower lot and along the curb as well as at Smiley Elementary School across the street.

For more information, contact the church at (909) 793-2267 or visit www.firstlutheranredlands.org.

KEEPING IT SWEET The apple butter flows at the First Lutheran Church in Redlands.

that called on all of us to turn on our heart lights... and promises to gift the Inland Empire with an undeniably rewarding concert experience.

Craig Safan, composer of The Last Starfighter, will be in attendance at the concert.

"We are excited to see how he finds our interpretation of the arrangements," said Maestro Fetta. This will be Fetta's first concert in his new formal role with the Symphony. He did, however, serve as interim conductor for the 2012-13 season and has led the symphony in many major presentations in prior years.

"I am thrilled to be an official member of the team and am looking forward to all the coming year has to offer," he said. "I want what we do to reflect community in a local, cultural sense, but also in a broader sense that will make San Bernardino one of the most highly desirable concert venues in all of California."

Maestro Fetta, who personally selected the pieces that comprise the upcoming season, discussed the rich tapestry of up-coming offerings: "We have the lofty task to bring unique, stand-alone experiences within the confines of just five principal concerts, but I think we have achieved our goal and that audiences will find each concert to have its own unique personality. I believe people will look at the season and see things they know and love and also things they're excited about hearing for the first time."

ADDITIONAL CONCERTS

Nov. 9, the Symphony will present Bold Voyage, a sweeping musical essay celebrating Sibelius' vividly triumphant Symphony No. 5 and passionate Russian soloist Ruslan Biryukov's masterful interpretation of Dvorak's magnificent Cello Concerto.

At the annual Family Concert and Family Music Fair, scheduled for Jan. 26, 2014, audiences of all ages will enjoy the Symphony's imaginative rendition of Prokofiev's enchanting tale of Peter and the Wolf, narrated by Symphony Board President and former San Bernardino Mayor Judith Valles. In addition, the Symphony will perform Sinfonia India by noted Mexican composer Carlos Chavez, Copland's ever-popular Billy the Kid, and Manuel de Falla's rhythmic and charismatic Fire Dance.

On March 1, the Symphony will present Sax & Strings which will include Barber's ever-popular Adagio for Strings, Bach's Brandenburg Concerto No. 3, Mozart's timeless Eine kleine Nachtmusik, and the intriguing (first time ever presentation of) Glazunov's Concerto for Saxophone featuring soloist Matthew Ennis.

The May 3 finale will conclude an outstanding season with MasterWorks, including Tchaikovsky's inspired Symphony No. 5 and Rachmaninoff's romantically virtuosic Piano Concerto No. 3 featuring audience favorite, the renowned pianist Norman Krieger.

In addition to the five major concerts and the popular pre-concert lectures and post-concert afterglow receptions, the San Bernardino Symphony will continue to extend its musical reach outside its home venue, the California Theatre of the Performing Arts, located at 562 W. Fourth Street in San Bernardino.

HIM

He lived in the same neighborhood as I did. I had seen him with my best girl friend, Betty. He had dark hair and eyes. I thought he was from another country. What did I know, I was only sixteen years old, and the year was 1947. All of us kids hung out on my front porch. Betty was so in love. He couldn't see me. Suddenly Betty had to move. Then I met HIM.
